TEACHERS at Serramonte have had their pre-opening, extra-curricular chores, also. For example, mathematics instructor Jeanne Matthews took an old bookcase and did colorful, polka-dotty wonders with it.

Wall-to-Wall Chairs, Too!

HALL OF LEARNING—Hundreds of chairs clutter the wide hallways of Serramonte High School in Daly City today—but on Friday, when classes begin, only a few arranged in half-circles will remain. Until some six classrooms are completed, some students will report to small-group instruction areas, in hallways.

IN THE MOVE to the new counseling quarters, new desk decor with an old message emerged. Carpeting at school keeps noise down — it was almost nil in counseling area, even though students and counselors were hard at verbal exchange Monday.

Students Help Shape Up New Plant in D.C.

By WILL E. THOMAS

Dozens of students have joined their teachers and scores of tradesmen the past two weeks, trying to get Serramonte High School ready for its Friday opening.

A spokesman for Principal Louis Martin said several modules of classes will be conducted in the new school's vast carpeted hallways and in eight school buses—for at least 20 days, while electricians, painters, floor tilers and other workers get six unfinished classrooms ready for occupancy.

The teachers at the new modular-scheduled facility were called back early this month, and as tradesmen got the green or goldish carpeting down, paraprofessionals and others on the Serramonte staff began the time-consuming work of getting a brand-new plant shaped up—in some semblence of order.

Then, students began drifting in. They, too, saw a job or two to be done: many of the youngsters Monday were washing windows or stacking books in the school's library and resource centers.

The bustle was there! Everyone continued to make up for the time lost through inclement weather delays and a critical shortage of electricians that slowed up the whole project.

Even at 7:45 a.m. Friday, when the 1,000 or so freshmen, sophomores and juniors of Serramonte High convene in the bleacher area, they still must face some modules of classroom time under conditions of inconvenience, with the southern portion of the fully enclosed school yet to be completed.

Because of the unfinished state of the vast structure, Serramonte did not open Septem-

ACCORD REPORTED

D.C. Transit Station Turmoil Is Ended

By FRANK LaPIERRE

After more than four years of bickering, bartering and battling it now appears Daly City and the Bay Area Rapid Transit District have come to terms on construction of a terminus transit station on Knowles Avenue.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett, with the blessing of the city council, has given the green light to build a low profile aerial station on the 13-acre site adjacent to the Junipero Serra Freeway.

Except for a few minor items, and some legal phraseology, agreement has been reached between the city and BARTD. Staff officials from each agency concerned will iron out the differences, hopefully this week.

The go-ahead came after Mayor Lycett said, "This rapid transit is important to us . . . we are going to have to have it."

He brushed aside discussions on future extension of the system down the Peninsula and concentrated his efforts on the local station with the assumption that it would be a terminus station as BARTD has indicated over the years.

Lycett told his fellow councilmen the city "must be practical about this" and explained, "It's tough settling this station without going into the extension."

The station as agreed upon by both sides will be built into a "cut," hiding it from view from above.

The slope of the land in the area will contribute to the screening of the facility, however, it will still stand some 24-feet above Knowles Avenue to the south of the station.

This would dictate that any extension would have to be the same height for a distance down the Peninsula.

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi's main concern was with the height of any extension

Compromise Review

South S.F. Delays Action On 18-Unit Duplex Complex

By BOB PETERSON

South San Francisco councilmen Monday again held up approval of an 18-unit duplex dwelling complex on Camarita Avenue following a lengthy public hearing appealing the use permit.

The final council decision was to have developer William Botieff confer with the city's planning staff, interested residents and the school district to work out an arrangement suitable to all concerned. The result of this session is to be sent back to the planning commissioners for a review of the compromise.

At its regular board meeting of August 4, the trustees of South San Francisco Unified School District passed a motion to protest the use permit to allow development of the apartment complex.

They felt that approving the permit would eliminate the nearby school's access to a future proposed elementary school site nearby, requiring children who would attend this school to cut through the Alta Loma Junior High School entrance.

Paul Nielsen, district superintendent, reiterated the district's stand, "If the original decision (of denying the use permit) was wrong, why was it wrong?" asked Nielsen. "If the second decision (of conditionally approving the use permit) was right, why was it right? Why," asked Nielsen, "was the reversal made?"

Joseph Zlatunich, planning commission chairman, told the councilmen the reason the permit was denied the first time was because the commissioners were under the impression the property would be used only for a church. They later found this

Chief Fabbri Quits S.S.F. For Fremont

John Fabbri has resigned as South San Francisco's police chief, effective October 12, to take a similar post in the rapidly growing city of Fremont in southern Alameda County.

Fabbri, considered one of the nation's top law enforcement officers, handed in his resignation "after much contemplation" to City Manager Thomas P. McKenzie last week.

Officials at Fremont City Hall confirmed that Fabbri had accepted an offer to head the Fremont police department in mid-October.

Resignation of Fabbri from the department he has been associated with for more than 19 years, came as a surprise to city officials, although rumors of the move had been heard in

County Grand Jury

Seventeen Persons Indicted

The San Mateo County Grand Jury voted on Monday to indict a total of 17 persons on bookmaking and conspiracy charges.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Wilbur Johnson said the number of defendants is the largest ever included in a single indictment in the history of the county.

The Grand Jury will convene today at 9 a.m. before Presiding Superior Judge James T. O'Keefe to formally return the indictment.

Fifteen of those indicted were arrested last month by district attorney and police investigators following a six-month investigation of alleged bookmaking and baseball betting activities in the northern part of the county.

Dist. Atty. Keith C. Sorenson said that two of those to be indicted were not among those arrested in last month's raids. He declined to reveal their names until the indictment is returned today and they are arrested.

Following the August 25 raids which netted the 15, Sorenson identified George C. Cunnings, 64, of 796 Minorca Way, Millbrae, as alleged kingpin of the bookmaking operation.

Those indicted include Cunnings, his wife, Marie, 43; Olive Jones, 50, a cocktail waitress, 107 Clarendon Road, Pacifica; John F. Kellogg, 45, a bartender, of 435 Hazel Avenue, San Bruno; Stanley Laufer, 30, of 7 Clover Court, South San Francisco, and Michael J. Casentini Jr., 31, of 726 West Orange Avenue, South San Francisco, co-owners of a bar.

George A. Frugoli, 50, a bartender, of 10 Madrid Court, Millbrae; Dorothy L. Tener, 49, a cocktail wiatress, of 67 Clearview Drive, Daly City; Arthur Broder, 59; James L. Gunter, 40, and Elaine E. Becker, 36, all of San Francisco.

Albert L. Barei, 56, a bartender, of 307 Roblar Avenue, Millbrae; Edward J. Segali, 51, a bartender, of 349 Minorca Way, Millbrae; Ernest Nebiolini, 33, a barber, of 643 Baden Avenue, South San Francisco, and Arthur DeGregoris, a service station owner, 51, of 1495 DeSolo Drive, Pacifica.

The indictment includes all of the defendants on the charge of bookmaking, and all but DeGregoris on the charge of conspiracy.

Times-Post Grid Contest Is Resuming

The annual Times-Post sponsored football contest will begin this weekend and will continue ten weeks, through November 23.

A total of $500 in cash prizes and 10 sets of tickets to the Stanford-California Big Game will be offered to contestants.

Each week on Tuesday, in The Times, an entry blank will appear with 15 games listed. A contestant correctly picking the winner of each game will receive a cash prize of $50 the first week. In the event no contestant picks 15 winners, a pair of tickets to the Big Game will be awarded and the $50 will be carried forward to the next week's contest.

Ties will be broken by using the estimates of net rushing and passing yardage for the designated team in each week's contest.

Subscribers to The Times will be awarded a bonus prize of $50 if they achieve a perfect score for all 15 games.

Additional contest rules and details appear with the entry blank and contestants are asked to read them carefully before submitting their entries.

Residents of Broadmoor Still to Swarm LAFCO

A group of irate Broadmoor residents still plans to swarm this afternoon's meeting of the Local Agency Formation Commission in Redwood City, although now it appears the petition requesting annexation to Daly City has been withdrawn.

The decision to go ahead with a motorcade and a subsequent mass appearance before LAFCO came at Thursday's meeting of the Broadmoor Property Owners' Association.

It came amid a certain amount of confusion. The president of the BPOA, Al Ickler, and one of the annexation proponents, Otis Smith, both said they were uncertain of the annexation petition's status.

Ickler said at the BPOA meeting that he had not been informed of the withdrawal. Newspapers recived information late Thuesday.

Many members of BPOA have been fighting the annexation request, with Ickler their recognized leader, for the past five years.

The battle, despite the withdrawal, appears to be continuing, inasmuch as some members of the association expressed the thought, Ickler said others said, "This was a stall, and perhaps, a way to throw us off guard."

The request for withdrawal came from Carl E. Copley of 832 Maddux. He was one of three proponents who made the LAFCO petition.

He stated in a letter to the body "certain factors have changed" since the application for annexation was made.

It was recommended that LAFCO accept the proposal for withdrawal, "without prejudice." He also noted he had planned to request a postponement of the September 17 hearing by 30 days so he could complete his report on the subject.

Its Own Airport? Daly City Not Overjoyed by Prospect

The Daly City council isn't kicking up their heels in joy over the prospect of getting its very own airport at Thornton Beach.

Matter of fact, Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett has instructed city manager Dave Rowe to give the matter a long hard look before making any comment.

Copy of an application filed by Mike B. Duffy, of 342 Reichling Avenue, Pacifica, to construct a gliderport at the State Park beach met with very little enthusiasm, and much criticism, at a study session of the council Monday.

Duffy, a veteran glider pilot-instructor, made application to the Federal Aviation Administration for the airport after contacting Daly City officials some four months ago.

He intends to extend a present 550 foot long runway some 1,500 feet and installing a special catapult that could propel the gliders into the sky. They would then soar around the area on wind currents which are enhanced by the steep cliffs, and come to land on the asphalt-sand surface.

The runways would run north-south along the beach.

Duffy explained that the winds coming off the ocean in the area add to the lift and soaring ability of the planes.

What worries the councilmen, however, is the potential danger (if any) presented to residents of the area by the planes.

Community Dinner For Chief Fabbri

One last minute announcement at Monday's South San Francisco City Council meeting brought applause from the audience.

City Manager Tom McKenzie, who had to have his mind jogged by Mayor Frank Bertucelli, told the audience the city is planning a community dinner in honor of Police Chief John Fabbri, who recently announced his resignation.

The dinner is scheduled for October 10 at the South San Francisco Elks' Club. McKenzie said those interested in attending should contact him at city hall for tickets.

In other action the councilmen:

Accepted a letter of resignation, effective October 1, from Parking Place Commissioner Alvin Stuller.

Read a letter of complaint from Douglas Bishop, of 536 Yosemite Drive, concerning contamination of the air with corrosive materials near the vicinity of the Oyster Point Marina. City Manager Tom McKenzie is scheduled to meet with boat owners today on the matter.

Set Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. as the time for a joint meeting of the park and recreation commissioners and city councilmen, plus the city's cultural committee concerning use of Siebecker Recreation Center for square dance and community theatre.

Established October 1 as the date and 7:30 p.m. as the time for a joint meeting of the councilmen and planning commissioners involving a rezoning request of Mike Callahan on property he is developing at a Westborough Park planned community.

Presented service pins to employees with ten or more years of service with the city.

Denied a blasting permit request from Piombo Construction Company.

Referred back to the city manager for further study a request for final acceptance of the Callan and Westborough Boulevard intersection improvement because of conflicts in the completion date.

Accepted a change order on Galaway Place improvements which mean a savings of $1,922.89 to the city.

Adopted a resolution allowing the city manager to enter into an agreement with the California State Co-operative Personnel Service for the purpose of initiating an independent employe salary survey.

Held up approval of the final map of a portion of the Westborough Park at Greendale Drive and Baldwin Hills Court until minor corrections have been made.

Appointed Councilman Warren Steinkamp as a voting delegate to the annual conference of the League of California Cities meeting in San Francisco from September 28 through October 1. Councilman Frank Mammini was named alternate.

Received and filed an application by Neal and Dorothy Moorehouse for on sale general public premises license at Westborough Square.

Received notice that Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's complaint of damages to their underground facility has been satisfied by their insurance company.

Accepted two low bids from the A & J Shooter Company of San Mateo for recreation and park-related work. A bid of $46,670 was accepted for work on the proposed 2½-acre Callan Park West park. A bid of $260,250 was accepted for work on the proposed Westborough 10-acre park.

Granted the contract to Martinelli Construction Company of San Francisco for construction of a municipal swimming pool on a low bid of $429,458.

Approved all regular claims.

the city for several weeks.

At 32 years old, Fabbri was one of the youngest chiefs of police in a major municipal police department in the nation.

He joined the South San Francisco department when he was 20 years old.

During his term of office he is credited with building the South San Francisco department into a highly skilled and well-trained unit — "one of the best in the state" — an official recently said.

Former President Lyndon Johnson appointed Fabbri to the Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crimes some three years ago. He has been called upon in recent years as a consultant on police management in such areas as New York City and Puerto Rico while with the International Association of Police Chiefs.

A member of the Police Task Force, Fabbri was also a consultant coordinator on consumer frauds and white collar rackets.

And as a consultant with the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, in the Department of Justice, he aided in the implementation of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968.

Fabbri is presently the chairman of the crime reporting and criminal statistics committee for the Peace Officers' Association and is also a commissioner for the peace officers' standards and training committee (POST).

ber 10, opening day for 26,000 other North County pupils.

Monday some observers found it difficult to visualize that the school could be ready at all by Friday morning. There will be some make-do education in the meantime, but Jefferson High District officials remind that nearly all pupils entering new plants in the past have faced the same trying conditions, including instruction inside those yellow school buses.

Serramonte's walls (those finished) are painted in eye-pleasing pastel colors. Its floors are carpeted, and the atmosphere, generally, is relaxing. Students, teachers and tradesmen alike found it easy enough—and soft enough—to plop down on the floor at lunch or break-time.

No Meeting

Due to the lack of an agenda, the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Commission meeting scheduled for Wednesday, September 17, is cancelled.

Dog Day At Pacifica

The Pacifica Dog Fanciers' first American Kennel Club-sanctioned show will be held at Terra Nova High School Saturday.

Club President Jim Bush said over 700 dogs are expected to be judged in the day-long event, with 11 rings provided to accomodate the nearly 75 different breeds.

Supervisors Blamed In Slowdown

Two San Mateo County supervisors have been blamed for holding up progress on the San Pedro-Market Street improvements in Daly City.

Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett laid the blame squarely on the shoulders of supervisors (Mrs.) Jean Fassler and Gerald F. Day because of their insistence on appealing a utility project in Menlo Park that was turned down by the PG&E Company.

In prior communications with the county, it was noted by the Daly City council that if the Menlo Park project was rejected for any reason the supervisors would turn their attention to the Daly City utility underground project—a joint venture to be undertaken using allocated funds from the utility company.

But the supervisors at their last meeting in a 2-1 vote, with Supervisor Werder abstaining, decided to appeal the Menlo Park decision.

An attempt by Board Chairman Bob St. Clair to divert the monies to the Daly City project died for lack of a second, Lycett informed the council during a Monday night study session.

The appeal may hold up funds until well into 1973, it was understood, and the city may continue with its improvement program, with the exception of the undergrounding.

Mayor Lycett noted that the county "isn't giving us any money" for the project.

Rather, the funds are allocated by the PG&E Company on an annual basis and those funds allocated by the county (estimated $40,000) would be used for improvement of county territory—not Daly City residents—it was explained by Lycett.

The city is expected to resume improvements—leaving the county's portion untouched.

$76,676 Pay Cost Increase To District

The 1969-70 classified salary schedule for the South San Francisco Unified School District calls for an increased cost to the school district of $76,676.

School board members implemented action they took on August 4, providing an average increase of 5.3 per cent, with no employe receiving less than a five per cent increase, nor more than a 7.5 per cent increase.

The trustees also approved a recommendation that a pilot program be tried on a new approach to disciplinary action for students charged with smoking offenses. The program genreally will follow the same organizational lines as the student drug abuse program currently in operation. This program has been termed successful.

Under the smoking program, students will be given a choice of disciplinary action of suspension for five days, which is automatic, of attending an instructional class for one hour each of four afternoons while continuing to attend school.

Eight regular teachers and 14 adult education instructors have been appointed by board members. They also accepted one resignation, one leave of absence and approved the employment of 12 classified employes.

In other action, the board members:

Accepted a gift of a used refrigerator for use in the maintenance department.

Okayed the fall, 1969, adult education program, including schedule of costs to the students, dents.

Schools Opposing Project

not to be true, according to Zlatunich.

The planning commission chairman also told the councilmen that after receiving the second request for approval, several commissioners solicited the area to determine if there was any opposition to the duplexes, and found none.

City Attorney John Noonan attempted to explain that there also has been a technical problem concerning the property since the adoption by the city of the master plan.

He said that the zoning map adopted as part of the master plan shows the area in question being zoned for a park. It would have a U, or unclassified zoning, which means the area could be used for anything not prohibited by law.

Councilman Frank Mammini made his position known when he said, "The council denied the appeal on the basis the developer revise the plan to the satisfaction of both parties (the developer and the school district). It has returned to us without a change. I can't vote on this item on that basis."

Also voicing objection to the granting of the permit was the Rev. Gilbert H. Vieira. Rev. Vieira had sent a letter to the councilmen earlier on the subject.

"In the letter he said, "My appeal is based on the weight of evidence against the proposed use of the site and the previous actions supporting the professional findings.

"The unexplained inconsistency of this action raises serious questions about the responsibility of this agency in serving the present and future welfare of our residents."

At last night's council meeting, the Rev. Vieira submitted a petition of some 65 names of people adjacent to the area supposedly against construction of the duplexes. Several other residents went before the council to individually protest the approval of the use permit.

Botieff also attempted to persuade the councilmen to his point of view before agreeing to a joint meeting to solve the problem.

SSF Seeks Assistant In Planning

Applications are being accepted by the city of South San Francisco to fill a position of planning assistant.

Frank Van Steen, present planning assistant, has accepted a position as director of planning for the city of Littleton, Colo., a Denve rsuburb. His last day with the city is September 30.

Qualifications needed for the position include a bachelor's degree in architecture, landscape architecture, city planning, public administration, economics, social studies, law or some other related field, plus one year of experience in city, county or regional planning.

Applicants need not be residents, but if hired, they must become residents within one year. Applicants also are required to sign a loyalty oath before appointment.

After spending 3½ years with the city, Van Steen expressed his thoughts on South San Francisco planning. "The city has reached its boundaries and now must work on filling the vacant lands," he said.

This would be in the industrial areas, according to Van Steen, since the residential area has reached its peak. He also said there is a need for an "overhaul" of the downtown area. If there would be any expansion it would be with the growth of the airport.

Bay Front Project Out: Rockefeller

David Rockefeller, director of the Chase Manhattan Bank and a principal in Westbay Associates formed to develop 27 miles of Peninsula Bayfront from the San Francisco Airport to Dumbarton Bridge, said yesterday that he and his associates had dropped their bay fill plans indefinitely.

"The Bay Area Conservation and Development District Law which was passed by the Legislature would probably prevent our carrying out the project," Rockefeller said.

southward, and whether the noise generated by trains would greatly disturb residents.

City Manager Dave Rowe was instructed to immediately check this noise factor out and to insure maximum noise levels were incorporated into the agreement, to be drawn up by city attorney Albert Polonsky, along with a strong stipulation that the city would have a voice in any extension of the system.

In all but a few cases, Daly City won concessions on the station location and surrounding traffic patterns, parking lots, landscaping and who would be responsible for paying for the added items.

As an example, the city wanted space for parking at least 1,000 cars. BARTD explained the district would build 682 spaces immediately and would ask for federal financial assistance to construct additional spaces at a later date.

The district agreed to build traffic signals in the area of the station, with the city and district sharing in their maintenance on a pro-rata basis.

Street improvements required to keep traffic flowing in and around the station will be undertaken and paid for by the district, the proposed agreement outlined.

The Daly City-BARTD feud over station design had raged for more than three years, with the city insisting on an underground station and BARTD stating the city could have anything it wanted—if it paid the difference between the aerial and subway systems.

It was estimated the cost to the city would top $3 million.

When it was initially planned, the BARTD station was not only a "terminus" for the 75-mile system's outer Mission Line, but contained a maintenance shop and sidings for additional trains.

Although BARTD was immune to Daly City's dictates because of its special status, the small city held a handful of aces and threatened to use them whenever they got the chance—namely, the closing of streets in the BARTD station area.

Without these closures BARTD could not proceed with building the station.

Joe Verducci Dorm For S.F. State

The new ten-story dormitory at San Francisco State will be named the "Joe Verducci Memorial Dormitory" it was learned yesterday.

Verducci, active in the physical education field and a former Daly City mayor and San Mateo County supervisor, suffered a heart attack some four years ago and died while playing handball.

He was head physical education instructor at SFS.

Laguna Salada Snubbing Poor, Woman Charges

Because of Laguna Salada school district is so "unsympathetic" to a Head Start program for poorer pre-school children, officials of the county's War on Poverty have to find classroom space elsewhere.

This was the charge levied by Mrs. Barbara Pitts of Pacifica at a meeting of the county's Economic Opportunity commission in Redwood City Thursday.

"The Laguna Salada district, from what I understand, is not sympathetic to the Head Start Program," Mrs. Pitts charged, saying that workers in the program had to secure classroom space from the Rev. M. Douglas Swenseid of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church at 533 Hickey Boulevard.

"We've had some bad experiences," Edward R. Becks, director of the county's poverty program agreed.

Mrs. Pitts appeared at last night's meeting to appeal for a year around Head Start program instead of just in the summer months.

When Becks explained the difficulty of getting immediate financing and estimated a Pacifica program would cost something like $800 to $10,000 to carry it to April 1, when new funds will be allocated, Mrs. Pitts said, "I guess nothing can be done for Pacifica."

"I'm not saying that," Becks replied, promising he would come up with a better idea by the commission's next meeting.

Much of the meeting was involved over the question of whether the county should keep a "1331" state pre-school program because of the vast amount of extra bookkeeping it involves for a small amount of funds.

If the county continued only with the state program, Becks said, no medical, dental, or psychiatric aid could be obtained for poor children at the time when they most need it.

The commission finally agreed to accept co-funding from both the federal Head Start program and the state program despite the "messy administrative setup" the state program creates, because a joint program will involve more children.

Broadmoor Library Pact Approved

San Mateo County has approved a new library pact with Daly City which will provide continuation of library services to Broadmoor and unincorporated Colma.

The agreement had earlier been approved by Daly City on recommendations of that city's Library Commission however the Board of Supervisors had passed the matter over at its last meeting two weeks ago "on recommendation of staff."

Under the terms of the agreement the county will remit $10 a year to the city for each county resident using the Daly City library services.

City manager Dave Rowe stated earlier Daly City would receive about $15,000-$20,000 annually from the county for providing the services.

The contract will be in effect from September 1, 1969 through June 30, 1971.

A stipulation of the agreement is that the city must re-register all county residents being serviced, along with separate accounting for "outsiders."

SSF Teachers Demonstrate At Institute

By WILL THOMAS

A joint "demonstration" by South San Francisco Unified School District's two teacher organizations was conducted during Thursday's two-hour Teachers' Institute at South San Francisco High School.

Officers of the South San Francisco chapters of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) and the California Teachers Association (CTA) determined Wednesday night to picket the administrative offices, distribute literature and boycott the general Institute session that started at 9 a.m., according to a spokesman for the two organizations.

The spokesman, Bob Meek, a teacher at the Martin Elementary School in the unified district, said AFT leader Bob Gehl and CTA president Bob D'Amico had signed the literature to be distributed then following an 8-9 a.m. coffee hour in the cafeteria of South San Francisco High School.

Teachers carrying placards were walking in the parking lot.

Meek said the "demonstration," as he called it, seemed to be aimed specifically at district supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen, over asserted breakdown in negotiations on various policies.

"The teachers feel they're not being listened to," said Meek, who is not an official in either teacher organization.

Meek said prior to the demonstration that the organizations expected "at least 50" tenured teachers — hopefully more, be added — would join with their leaders and not attend the general Institute meeting. About 500 joined the boycott, it was later estimated, and the main talk of morning was cancelled.

Meek indicated a major problem with administration to be one of communication.

"It all boils down to lack of communication," he asserted. "Dr. Neilsen wants to run a nice tight ship and doesn't want people to make waves."

Meek indicated the teacher groups were upset over the district's failure to allow them to have the five to 10 minute periods they've had in the past at Institute in which to "make their pitches" for membership to new and old teachers.

Neither CTA nor AFT were included on the Institute program, Meek declared.

The groups aimed to "embarrass" the administration, Meek said, without "hurting" the school children.

Ultimately, the teacher groups wanted to make a "mild protest" that would be "something noticeable," the spokesman said.

Meek added, "There apparently is a lot of dissatisfaction" among teachers.

Crestmoor Canyon To San Bruno?

Property in Crestmoor Canyon on both sides of Interstate 380 belonging to the state may become the property of the city of San Bruno within a couple of years.

San Bruno City Manager Gerald Vergeer Wednesday morning sent a letter to Sacramento indicating the city would be interested in purchasing such property, offered for sale by the state's Division of Highways.

Vergeer, instructed by the councilmen to write the letter, said the state wants to sell the property, but doesn't want to give title immediately,, as they want to make use of the dirt for fill on the interstate.

There are three separate parcels involved; 5.4 acres next to Glenview Drive, 17.9 acres next to Crestmoor Drive and 21.5 acres next to Sneath Lane.

Vergeer told the councilmen the proposal made by the highway division was to purchase the 5.4 acres for $3,000, the 17.9 acres for $5,000 and the 21.5 acres for $44,000.

Bandits Flee With $300; Tie Manager

Joseph Douglas, manager of Dependable Typewriter Company, 606 San Mateo Ave., San Bruno, had his Monday morning routine rudely interrupted by two gunmen brandishing pistols.

While San Bruno police officers were still at the office this morning checking for clues, Douglas told the Times how he was confronted, bound and robbed of approximately $300.

At about 7 a.m., according to Douglas, two young men, age 20 to 25, entered building housing the typewriter sales and repair store just after he'd opened.

"One wore dungarees," said Douglas. He said he didn't get a good enough look at the second suspect for a good description.

The intruders, armed with pistols, made Douglas, who was alone in the store at the time, lie down on the floor. They bound him with a rope they had brought with them.

"The pair then left through the rear door," said Douglas.

SSF Police Arrest Three Juveniles

Alert patrol observation by a South San Francisco police officer on Friday resulted in the arrest of three juveniles for auto theft in the Winston Manor area of South San Francisco.

Officer Ronald Barranti noticed two cars of the same make at Longford Drive and Clay Avenue enter the area where several thefts have occured recently.

He followed the vehicles and noticed one being abandoned on Wicklow Avenue, as the driver left on foot. A quick radio check revealed the auto had been stolen from San Francisco.

Officer Barranti continued to follow the second vehicle, stopping it at Wicklow Avenue and Dundee Drive. Another radio check revealed this auto, too, had been stolen from San Francisco.

All three suspects were apprehended and booked on suspicion of auto theft. The driver of the second vehicle also was charged with possession of stolen property. He had someone's credit cards and identification in his possession.

Silver Dollars Loot in D.C.

Entry to the home was made by forcing open a rear screen door.

C.I.T.Y. Sets A Columbus Day Affair

Family Forum

"We want the people of Daly City from all ethnic, religious and racial groups to come together and enjoy themselves and we think that Columbus Day is just the time to do it," said Ed Eastman, chairman of Community Interaction Through You, as he announced his organization's Festival of All Nations at Jefferson High School on the afternoon of October 12.

Eastman went on to add that he has contacted representatives of several groups and they had agreed to participate in the festival which will feature ethnic and national foods, a fashion show, and a talent show.

"One of the great contributions will come from the youth. We know that the young people of Daly City want to take part in an event which will help the entire city," Eastman said.

Plans for the event call for the appearance of several music groups as well as specialty performers from among local ethnic groups.

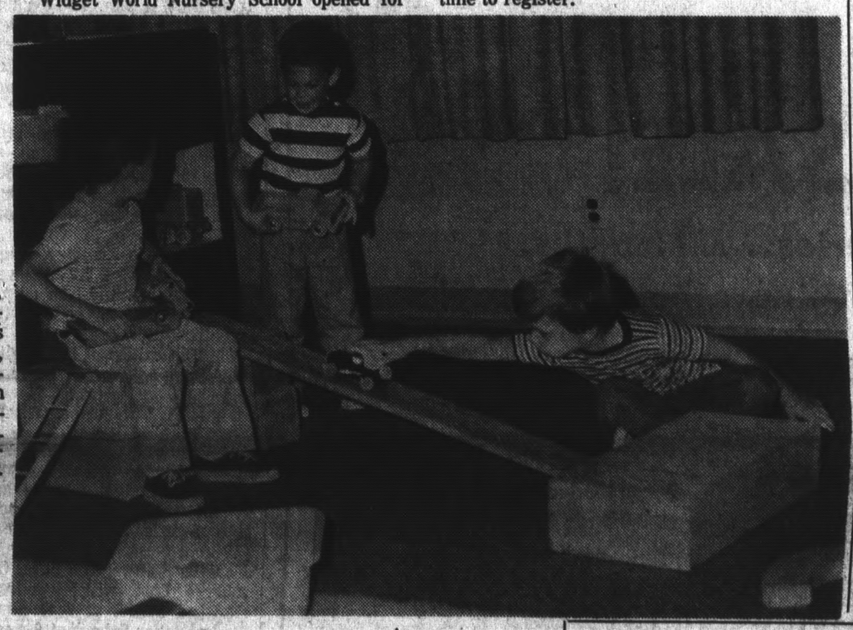
YWCA Registration

There are openings in drawing and painting, beginners bridge, cake decorating, dancing, trimnastics, yoga and guitar with classes being held at the Sharp Park Library in Pacifica, Carlton Corners Clubhouse in San Bruno, St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church in South San Francisco and at various locations in Daly City.

Widget World Nursery School opened for the school year this week with classes Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday under the supervision of Mrs. Joyce Call.

The Nursery School is not licensed by the California Department of Social Welfare which makes it possible for a broader program.

The nursery program is a learning experience for all children from two years nine months through six years of age. Because the school will run on a yearly basis, there is still time to register.



A VARIETY of activities — fun and learning — will greet youngsters like these who are enrolled in the YWCA's Widget World Nursery School, supervised by Mrs. Joyce Vall Call.

Flower Show to Fete Astronauts

The San Bruno Garden Club will unveil their "Floral Profiles of 1969" at their thirteenth annual standard Flower Show Thursday and Friday at the Dollar Savings and Loan Building in San Bruno. The public is invited to attend without charge.

A special Preview Night is planned for Thursday, at 8 p.m. for garden club members and their guests and members of the bank staff. Refreshments will be served.

The show is sponsored by the savings and loan company and headed by Mrs. A. Norman Huff and Mrs. William Knill. Club members will do the arrangements for the show, but Mrs. Huff is not in the actual competition this year. She will do invitational arrangements with Mrs. Peter Kelly. Their categories will be "Mercury" and "Gemini."

This year the flower show is dedicated to the Moon Landing. Many of the categories reflect this impression, such as, "Reaching for the Moon," "Tranquility" and "We came in peace for all mankind." All of these and many more will be depicted in both fresh and dried material.

Colorful flowers, of course, will be the outstanding feature of the show. In the miniature class members will make flower arrangement in "pint-size." All of the miniatures must conform to flower show rules and adhere to the schedule. Some of the arrangements will be no larger than one inch and complete in every detail.

Also included in the show is the horticulture section of cut blooms and potted plants. Many showy varieties and hard to grow items are seen at this time. Members will be happy to discuss any questions visitors may have on care or type of plants. Hostesses will be on hand throughout the show to answer questions and show displays.

This year, there will be special San Bruno Garden Club Awards to replace the Tricolor and Award of Distinction. Trophies will be given for the top arrangement in the fresh material class and one for the dried material class. In addition, trophies will be awarded for "Best in Show" and sweepstakes winners in the miniature, artistic and horticulture sections. The "Award of Merit" will be given to both the cut specimens and the potted plants.

Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and the preview night will begin at 8 p.m.

The San Bruno Garden Club is a member of Bay-Ocean District, California Garden Clubs, Inc.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

A Special Cake

Good morning, good cooks.

This seems like an excellent day to share a very special cake recipe with you. I had heard this cake praised by the family and friends of Mrs. John Maloney who lives in San Francisco.

It seems that birthdays and holidays aren't complete in the Maloney family unless this cake is served. You can imagine how eager I was to have the recipe and how happy I was when Mrs. M sent it to me.

After baking it I can see why it is such a favorite. It's easy to bake and adapts itself to any kind of filling anhipped cream on top. Mrs. Maloney favors and whipped cream on top. Mrs. Maloney fsvors whipped cream between layers and a chocolate frosting on the top. So you see that you can let your taste buds be your guide in finishing this cake.

MRS. MALONEY'S CAKE

1 cup plus two tablespoons cake flour
1¼ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
5 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
½ cup orange juice
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift the one cup plus two tablespoons cake flour, the one and one-fourth teaspoons baking and half teaspoon salt together three times. Set aside.

Separate the eggs. Beat the egg whites until foamy, add three-fourths cup of the sugar gradually, beating until stiff. Beat the yolks until thick and creamy, add the remaining one-fourth cup sugar and beat again. Fold the yolks into the stiff whites. Fold the sifted dry ingredients into the egg mixture. Add the half cup orange juice and the teaspoon vanilla. Blend gently. Pour into two eight-inch round pans that have been lightly oiled on bottom only.

Bake in 350-degree oven about 35 minutes. (My oven is being very sneaky and temperamental these days so I checked at 25 minutes and the cake was done.) If you have any doubts about your oven check in the last ten minutes of baking time.

When the cake tests done (springs back when lightly pressed in the center) remove and place on cake racks upside down to cool completely. Remove from pan and fill and frost as desired.

NOTE: Even with the oil on the bottom, this cake, like all sponge cakes, clings to the bottom of the pan. As I was removing it I recalled that Mrs. Maloney said that she placed a round of waxed paper on the bottom, and I plan to do the same the next time I bake it.

Chicken baked in the oven is a very popular dish. It eliminates all the cleaning of the stove top that ensues when chicken is fried on top of the stove. This next recipe bakes chicken in the oven, adds halves of peaches for color and flavor and finishes off the dish with hot buscuits. Sound good? It tastes good and is mighty eye appealing too.

OVEN CHICKEN PLUS

2½ to 3 pound frying chicken, cut up
½ cup evaporated milk
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
½ cup shortening
1 No. 2½ can cling peach halves
1 can ovenready biscuits

Dip the cut up chicken in the half cup evaporated milk. Combine the cup flour, two teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon paprika and one-fourth teaspoon poultry seasoning. Dip the chicken in the flour mixture. Set aside remaining flour mixture for gravy.

Melt the half cup shortening, in a 13x9-inch pan. Add the chicken, skin-side down. Basting occasionally bake uncovered in hot oven (425-degrees) until tender about 45 minutes. Turn chicken, move, to end pan. With spoon or rubber scraper push drippings to end of pan with chicken.

Arrange drained peach halves on chicken. Open the can of biscuits separate and put in other end of pan. Bake 15 minutes or until biscuits are brown. Remove peaches, chicken and biscuits to hot plates.

GRAVY

¼ cup of set-aside flour mixture
1-cup water
1-cup evaporated milk
Salt and pepper to taste

Blend the fourth cup flour mixture into the drippings in pan. Gradually stir in the cup of water, boil and stir for 2 minutes. Stir in the cup of evaporated milk. Heat until steaming hot, but do not boil. Salt and pepper to taste. Serves 4.

THE PENNEY STORY

Mrs. Penney's answer to her husband

By ROBERTA NASH

One day we were up in Mr. Penney's office talking about how hard it is to get "the Penney difference" across to people outside the company. Mr. Penney told this anecdote:

"Once after a very inspiring meeting with store managers, I said to Mrs. Penney, 'You know, I am not yet satisfied that I have ever been able to tell the real story of this company. Why?'

"Mrs. Penney turned to me. 'Because you cannot define the soul,' she answered."

Transformation Of A Bare Stage... Coast Group Works

When the curtain goes up on the Pacifica Spindrift Players' opening production of the 1969-70 season, "Portrait in Black" in October, much will have taken place to transform a bare stage into an entertainment filled evening.

While the audience sees only a beautifully constructed set resembling a Sea Cliff mansion in San Francisco and the performance of the actors in the Ivan Goff and Ben Roberts play, much credit must be given to the "roles" played by the real workers . . . backstage personnel.

These areas of the murder-mystery produced through special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc. of Hollywood are headed by Robert Southworth, assistant director. It is his job to see that everything runs smoothly on the technical end.

Aiding him will be Virginia Johnson as stage manager, Edward Roy as house manager, and Darrel Greer as business manager.

Southworth and Aubrey Lumley, production director, have announced that costumes will be designed by Sharon Almeida, Marge Russ, and the Boutique Pot Pourri while the stage setting will be executed by John Craig. (A split-level set is being used, something new for the coast theatre group.)

In charge of makeup will be Kathy Hawkins, Zoe Bogue, and Norma MacArthur and lighting effects will be handled by Gary Nelson. Sound effects will be headed by Berneice Olson and Ethyl Wallace; properties duties finds Marrianne DeVeggio, Ann Lawson, and Gail Asselia in charge.

The hostess duties will be handled by Grace Ryan; programs and inserts are under the direction of Arnold Turner and Mrs. Olson. Ticket sales are headed by Greer and Lumley and publicity artist is Roy. Rounding out the stage crew are Maritza Serrecchia and Dennis Krier.

It should be noted that many of the persons listed here, at one time or another have been seen on the stage in other productions or are new to the group.

Participants willingly switch "roles." One production will find them on stage, another will find them doing makeup, selling tickets, or even hammering and painting.

PATRICK SANDLIN AND LYNN GIORGI
San Carlos Girl to Marry

The production opens October 10 and plays Friday and Saturdays for three weekends.

The players' benefit program chairman, Virginia Johnson, has announced that the threatre group is looking for an organization that wishes to use the opening night performance of "Portrait in Black" as a money-raising project.

An organization may purchase the 150 opening night tickets for $100. By selling the tickets for these seats at the regular door price of $2 the organization automatically makes a $200 profit to use in its programs.

In addition, the organization may sell refreshments to supplement this income beyond the $200 figure.

"The players feel this is a good way to make money for the various civic organization projects with little effort," said Mrs. Johnson.

Any group interested should contact her in Pacifica to arrange for tickets and to allow enough time to sell to the public. The only night available is opening night and the contract will be given on a first-come first-served basis.

A 'Lollipops And Roses' Fashion Show Theme Set

"In the midst of the football season, the women of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mother's Club are going to enjoy a delightful day of feminine fashions, freindship and fun."

So says chairman Mrs. Walter Trafalis, when she recently announced that plans are underway for the annual fashion show and luncheon, "Lollipops and Roses," to be held November 1 at 12:30 p.m. at the Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco.

McDonald's of Serramonte will provide the fashions, according to co-chairman Mrs. Richard Torres.

Also observed working on preparations for the fashion show during the latter summer months were Mrs. Alice Gonzales, donations; Mrs. Wesley Arceneaux, hostesses; Mrs.Ed Denning, and Mrs. Al Galliano, raffle; Mrs. William McGuire and Mrs. Jesse Pagan, reservations; Mrs. George Valente, decorations and Mrs. John Sans, publicity.

Mrs. Glenn Boyd and Mrs. Emilio Montaner will serve a Mexican luncheon on September 23 at 12:30 p.m. at 98 Woodrow Streeet, Daly City.

Proceeds will go toward defraying expenses of the fashion show. The fee of $2 a person will be charged. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Emilio Montaner.

OUTGOING president Herb Tweedie (right) of the Daly City Rotary Club hands over gavel to the incoming president, Stan Cohen, at recent club gathering at International Joe's. The Daly City club meets each Wednesday at noon.

SSF Women's Club Potluck Luncheon

The first meeting of the South San Francisco Women's Club was held in the Club House Thursday and featured a pot luck luncheon hosted by the executive board.

Clothes Closet chairman, Mrs. Fred Ingle, announced that M. J. Nardi and H. R. Panattoni from the plant department of the South San Francisco Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. office have spearheaded a company drive that resulted in the collection of a truck-load of clothing items.

"Clothes Closet" is the Club's philanthropic project, furnishing clothing and shoes for area needy children.

On September 25, at noon, in the clubhouse, the garden section is sponsoring a ladies luncheon league. For reservations contact Mrs. Fred Curtis. Members are encouraged to attend and take friends. This is a money-making project and must have 100 persons seated.

Veteran's chairman, Mrs. Carmelo Imprescia, presented "Gold Stars" for work done during the summer month's, to Mesdames Custer, Guarisco, for cupcakes for the U.S.O.; Mesdames Peltier, Hynding, Custer, Imprescia and Vasquez for cookies to Palo Alto Veteran's Hospital; to Mrs. Erdman for the Angel Cake for U.S.O. at San Francisco Airport; to Mrs. Gilbert Lazzari for time and delivery of things to the Veteran's Hospital.

Mrs. James Howard was thanked for donation of ten yards of material for men's ditty bags for Veteran's Hospital.

Garden section will meet at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Fred Curtis with Mrs. Dezell Ostrander the co-hostess. Members are to take bag lunches.

Plans are being formulated for a rummage sale in October, and members are reminded to save all usable items for this coming event.

White Cane Days Picked In Daly City

"Wear a miniature Lions white cane on Lions White Cane Days, October third and fourth," urges McRobert Stewart and James Howard, presidents of Daly City's two Lions Clubs. "Your gift will help Lions to extend the helping hand to the blind and those with sight impairment, one of the most important of Lions Clubs projects throughout the world."

Those dates have been set as the time for the annual raising of funds for sight serving projects of Lions Clubs of the 800 club California-Nevada District 4 of Lions International. Each club pledges to use one hundred per cent of its receipts for the blind and sight projects.

In administering the money raised, Lions throughout the two-state area render services ranging from the very personal to the broad work of groups and organization. Individual needs such as school children's eye examinations and supplying glasses, therapy or helping in the cost of operations, while Lion groups sponsor clinics, homes, for the blind and research laboratories, and independent organizations, such as schools and recreation facilities for blind children, Braille Institute and guide dog centers are assisted by White Cane Days money from Lions Clubs. Last year's White Cane Days receipts were used to give free eye examinations in the Westlake Shopping Center with one of the member clubs mobile eye truck.

A ZOOCUS!

Ponies, dogs and pigeons are featured at the San Francisco Zoological Society's Zoocus, Saturday and Sundays only, at 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m., in Children's Storyland at the zoo.

THE DANIEL WEBSTER Parent-Teachers Association executive board welcomed the principal, Mrs. L. Bostwick and her staff at a recent luncheon, which featured international cooking. Shown, left to right, in a room decorated in bright orange and yellow flowers around Snoopy and a "Happiness Is" theme were Principal Bostwick, Vickie Larubin and Jefferson Elementary School District trustees William Schumacher and Al Collett. Many Persons To Attend Banquet

Reports from the Daly City Information and Referral Center indicate that the testimonial banquet for the center's director, the Rev. Howard Bryant, will be attended by persons from all over San Mateo County. The banquet is slated for the Daly City War Memorial on October 4 at 7:30 p.m.

In summing up the initial response, Community Organizer Gloria Bourkes said, "We have been astounded at the way people have responded to the announcement. We just didn't anticipate anything like this. We have had calls from people in government, education and just plain citizens who wish to honor Bryant."

Reverend Bryant is leaving the Information Center to attend the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Mayo said the fees were collected for 55 building, 26 heating, six plumbing and 23 electrical permits, plus plan check fees and sales of code books and maps.

Value of construction during the month, Mayo disclosed, was $277,695, in contrast to $1,426,999 the previous August, when 99 building permits were issued.

The valuation of ten new residences was placed at $226,152; on ten residential additions, $29,545; on 29 residential alterations, $7,975; and on two commercial alterations, $10,875.

Mayo's office also issued permits for three retaining walls, valued at $3,300.

Total valuation of construction, from July 1, to August 31, 1969, was listed at $992,855 by the building department.

Supanich On Bruno Board

A San Bruno businessman has been named to the city's planning commission.

Paul P. Supanich, 59, of 2401 Princeton Drive, will succeed Alfred T. Smith, who resigned the post April 29 for health reasons.

"He's a very down-to-earth realistic person," said Councilman Karney Barberian. "This man will be unbiased, period."

Born in Michigan, Supanich graduated from a Los Angeles diesel engineering school "at a time when the diesel engineer was rare."

The father of three grown boys, whose children make him a grandfather five times over, Supanich also owns and operates a sheet metal shop in San Francisco. "I've been a steelworker all my life," said Supanich, who once worked in the mines and at the shipyards as a welder.

More than a dozen applicants were considered for the post. Said Councilman Maurice Hamilton, "We just felt he was the best qualified."

Link To Freeway Near Colma Approved

A project to connect Junipero Serra Freeway and El Camino Real in Colma by improving Rainer and F streets north of Woodlawn Memorial Park, which North County municipal officials say they have waited 10 years for, was given a green light by the county board of supervisors Wednesday.

Overriding a protest from the Conti Estate, which holds 55 per cent of the property facing the proposed road project, supervisors ordered improvement bonds to finance the project sold and agreed they will accept a low $151,000 bid from McGuire and Hester of Oakland within the next 45 days.

Engineer's estimate for the work was $165,124.

Councilman Raymond J. Ottoboni of Colma told supervisors, "we have been trying to get this for 10 years." He said residents until now have had to drive to San Pedro Road to travel between the two highways.

Cyrus J. McMillan, attorney for the Conti estate, said his client was objecting because the North County Sanitation District will not allow the state to use its property, and it is objecting to paying $55,000 in assessments.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald remarked he thought the estate would be allowed to use its property like any other property owner if it put in pipes to connect to a sewage system.

Westlake Lutheran Plans Nine-Month Film Series

A new venture in Christian education will begin at Westlake Lutheran Church, 222 Avalon Drive, on Sunday.

Every Sunday morning at 10 movies or sound film-strips will be shown. The films will be geared to the various age groups. Almost $300 of new audio-visual aids have been purchased or rented by the congregation for this new nine-month venture.

The films will be followed by small discussion groups according to ages led by trained teachers. The younger children will have activity projects offering opportunities for creativity.

Different films will be shown to the different age groups, to promote the greatest possible opportunities for individual growth and development by the students enrolled in the church school, a church spokesman explained. The films will deal with Christian life today, stories from the Old Testament and New Testament, worship, prayer, Church history, and contemporary issues of concern in our world.

The films feature insights into the work of Christian mission work in India, Tanzania, Nigeria, Japan, Colombia and other mission fields of the church.

"Movies or filmstrips will be shown and discussed every Sunday, from September 21 through May 31 of next year," said the Rev. Thomas Unmacht, pastor of the congregation.

Morgan Raps 'Inertia' In School System

The "old concept of blaming everything we don't like on the system in baloney!" Jefferson High School District Supt. Edward Morgan told employes at their first fall meeting.

Morgan said that in reality "our slow progress in effecting change results from educational inertia created by experiences with inappropriate and inadequate approaches to change."

He added that "all research clearly demonstrates that enthusiasm for change far exceeds evidence of change.

In support of his contentions, Morgan offered four points:

1—Most proposed educational change relies upon individual teacher classroom performance for implementation;

2—Too many new educational practices are of the add-on variety, requiring immediate and large increases in expenditures for implementation;

3—A preponderance of educational innovations consist of inventions of change and these innovations do not give sufficient consideration to the locus of change — one should not select a BB gun for a bear hunt;

4—The "grass roots approach" to educational change and development teacher-by-teacher, school-by-school, and district-by-district, is obsolete and should be abandoned.

Morgan also told his staff:

"We ... know that schools are the one and only place for the local taxpayer to express his frustration."

Morgan suggested that "as educators" teachers and administrators should "also be keenly cognizant of the fact that research indicates that more change is taking place in the schools below the national level in per-pupil expenditures than in the schools of average or above average per-pupil expenditures."

He said he thought this "might" suggest that "change is a function of things other than money."

Morgan pointed out that research indicates the "only significant" developments and subsequent changes in American curriculum in the past 50 years have been the new mathematics and in the sciences.

"We should note carefully how these were developed," he urged, "and mark well problems associated with introducing and sustaining them."

Song Writing Contest Set At Westside

In preparation for the fall enlargement campaign in the Sunday School, "Winning With The Word" a poster and song writing contest has been started at Westside Baptist Church of Pacifica.

Superintendent McDaniel announced that for the next three Sundays pupils may submit an appropriate poster or original song, and be in line for a prize. The posters and songs submitted will be judged, and then used in the promotion of the October enlargement emphasis.

"As Real As Heaven" is the sermon topic for September 21 at 11 a.m. worship hour. Special music will be provided for this hour also. A special feature of this service will be the Baby Dedication service. At this service, parents with babies or small children come before the church congregation in an act of parental dedication to the task of being the parents that God would want them to be.

During the adult worship hour, a unique Primary Church service is held for boys and girls four through seven years of age. Mrs. Jean Hernandez is in charge of this program, assisted by Mrs. Rosa Donnelly. A nursery is provided for babies and toddlers.

At the 7 p.m. Sunday Gospel Hour, the Rev. Lawrence Au, pastor of the Chinese Southern Baptist Church of San Francisco will be the guest speaker. Reverend Au is the brother of Mrs. Nora Wu of 419 Andover, Pacifica, a member of the local church.

Reverend Au, a native of China, came to the church in San Francisco, from a Chinese Baptist Church in Ippo, Malaysia. Prior to that he did missionary work on the island of Macau, and has travelled in Thailand and Hong Kong.

He is a graduate of the Baptist Tehological Seminary of Hong Kong, and recently received a Masters of Religious Education degree at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Mill Valley.

Reverend Au will show pictures taken while doing mission work in these various countries, and tell of the effect of the Gospel in these lands. The midweek service of the church meets at 7:30 p.m each Wednesday. The meeting will be at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno. There will be a brief time of prayer, then visitation assignments will be given out, and the members of the church will go out calling in the homes of Sunday School contacts, and new families in the community.

Saturday, teachers from Westside Baptist will join with scores of others from churches of the Peninsula, as they attend the second Sunday School Conference, sponsored by the San Mateo County Evangelical Ministers' Association, at the First Assembly of God Church, Redwood City.

The Westside Baptist Church is affiliated with the Baptist General Conference, formerly known as the Swedish Baptist Conference. Sunday services are held in the San Andreas School Auditorium, Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard (Fairmont), Pacifica.

Elderly Man Found Dead At Marina

An autopsy was scheduled for last Friday to determine the cause of death of a 68-year-old San Francisco man whose body was found in the Oyster Point Marina at South San Francisco Friday afternoon.

Police said the victim was Armand Lamothe, of 854 Sunnydale Avenue, a retired metal worker.

According to the police report, the victim had been seen at approximately 10:30 a.m., working on his small craft, named "Jackie." The body was found in the water at approximately 2:30 p.m. by ship repairman Paul Sierra of 222 Wildwood Drive, South San Francisco.

Police speculate the victim may have suffered a heart attack and fallen off the boat. Or, since he was reported to have had poor eyesight, the victim may have slipped on a two-step, box-type arrangement on a floating deck that he used as a means of getting aboard the craft, police said. There were no signs of foul play.

Construction On Warehouse

Construction began Monday on a one million dollar industrial warehouse building in the Cabot, Cabot and Forbes, Industrial Park, South San Francisco, according to Joseph Duffel, president, Duffel-Smoot Companies of Lafayette.

Containing 100,000 square feet, the building will be placed on 200,000 square feet of land. The concrete tilt-up construction will have 15 per cent of its space devoted to offices, with the remainder in warehousing. With an architecturally - designed front elevation, the building will be supplied by a railroad spur and will have dock-high loading platforms. Extensive landscaping will surround the building. Architecture is by Alan R. McKay and Associates of Oakland.

Church Awaiting A New Minister

First Lutheran Church members in South San Francisco are looking forward to September 24, the date the Rev. Trenton R. Ferre, formerly of Henderson, Nev., will become new pastor.

He will be installed at a special service on September 28. A reception will follow.

Reverend Ferre has set October 4 as the first day of Confirmation instructions. All young people in the seventh and eighth grades this fall are to attend.

Edwin Knight, Sunday School superintendant, is handling pre-registration.

Cable TV--Why Do Charges Vary?

OUR SOURCE SAYS the same cable telly people that are putting in the system in Daly City are bidding on installing a similar system in Brisbane. The difference is in the money end of the arrangement: Daly Cityites will pay $4.75 for the same service Brisbane will be able to get for only $4. But don't fret too much folks, the subscribers using this company's system in Half Moon Bay pay in the neighborhood of $5.50. The question is why the variation in charges?

FLASHY FLASH—Four Daly City firemen have handed in their resignations and will soon depart (one already has) for San Francisco. This WILL NOT pinch the local manpower, inasmuch as the eligible list is long enough to furnish the supply satisfy the demand. But what does hurt is the fact that the average experience of those leaving is five years. The exodus continues!

DALY CITY ATTORNEY Paul Hupf, former muni court judge, telling friends he can hardly wait to read this newspaper each week — "To see if I'm running for assemblyman or not."

IF THE ODDS ARE CORRECT, Hupf WILL NOT enter the primary. And that's the final word on that matter for awhile (we promise).

FORMER DALY CITY MANAGER Ed Frank was asked how he is enjoying his retirement. "I haven't had time to evaluate it yet . . . I've been too busy."

CONFIDENTIAL TO C.P. — He really isn't going to open another store . . . at the present time.

WHAT WITH ALL THOSE unusual sayings popping up in at least one twice weekly north county paper, we've decided to follow suit, to provide our reader (singular) with all the coverage.

Example: An old Tibetan saying goes, "A wet bird never flies at night." (For some unexplainable reason, it loses something in the translation!)

WHAT EVER HAPPENED to Daly City City Treasurer Joseph Lewkowitz? We haven't seen hide nor hair of him for the past three months. Even the people desked around his office in City Hall say he rarely comes in for a visit, and when he does come in to satisfy the requirements of his $400 per month post he is in uniform. Gosh, we didn't even know he had signed up!

YOU HEARD IT FIRST—Daly City firemen will definitely go into the International Association of Firefighters (Local 1879). Both Millbrae and Burlingame are already members. This move will tie the department into the County Labor Council, giving them a louder voice in many things.

SPEAKING OF FIREMEN—The reason those back fences on Rio Verde got scorched during the grass fire the other day was that the Daly City firemen were called away to battle a brush fire that had surrounded a secluded home on the side of the mountain off Carter Street. They saved the home. Three firemen suffered minor injuries.

SO HOW CUM South San Francisco continues to lose good personnel? City Manager Gene Aeillo and Chief John Fabbri—two of the best—in the past six months.

DUM DE DUM DUM—Jack Webb was a Baccala Club luncheon guest at Toto's Restaurant the other noon. Not THAT Jack Webb. This Webb is the well-known Hillsborough interior designer.

THAT WASN'T A WALKOUT—Of the 691 persons scheduled to attend the "welcome back" speeches at the South San Francisco Unified School District last week (90 were administrators) some 500 decided to wait out Dr. Paul Nielson's speech. When it came time for guest speaker Thomas More, a Los Angeles newsman, to speak the teachers filed into the auditorium. But Neilson and two school trustees had other plans and called the speech off.

COUNTY BUILDERS are pushing for a change of building codes which would permit the use of "Romex" wiring (plastic covered electrical wire) instead of the conduit-type and knob-tube wiring in homes. The savings on this would be almost insignificant. What they are actually shooting for (the builders) is establishment of plants in lower labor cost areas where homes could be pre-fabbed and shipped in, uncrated and erected by practically unskilled labor. If the supervisors approve "Romex" it would be only a matter of time before the county adds a few hundred unemployed to its welfare rolls, opponents of the measure claim.

Letters To The Editor

Raps LAFCO

Editor, The Post:

Local Agency Formation Commission is amazed that we should rebel at annexation to Daly City, but then they haven't looked into the facts of the matter. The majority of the curbing in the Broadmoor Area does not meet the standards established by Daly City.

There is the distinct possibility that if the area were annexed, Daly City would require that this be brought up to standard with the costs paid directly by the individual homeowner.

Daly City has its own water system, while the Broadmoor Area is serviced by the California Water Service Co. It is again a possibility that Daly City could and would require that the residents of the area purchase this system and incorporate it into the Daly City system.

The cost of these two items alone, and we would have no voice in this either, would be prohibitive.

Now we can top this off with Daly City's tax rate, $1.81 per each $100 assessed value. The proposed Broadmoor Tax rate of $0.19-$100 assessed value, not including Lighting District, Fire District and County Library taxes, would have to be off by a factor of 9.5 in order to come close to the Daly City rate.

Now, for all of this, what do the people of Broadmoor stand to gain by annexation:

IMPROVED POLICE PROTECTION? — Whether evaluated by per capita, per area or by effectiveness; the residents of the Broadmoor Police District can only loose protection by this annexation.

IMPROVED FIRE PROTECTION? — Only recently did the Daly City Area achieve the Fire Board Rating held by the Broadmoor Volunteer Fire Department and if Daly City does not solve it's Fire Department Personnel problems they may loose this class 5 rating. The mere annexation of Broadmoor to be protected by their boarderline department may be sufficient to drop them to a class 6.

GUARANTEED LIBRARY AND RECREATION FACILITIES — The only thing the Honorable "Bud" (Mayor Bernard) Lycett could think of when asked what advantages Daly City could offer Broadmoor, were guaranteed use of Library and Recreation Facilities. Facilities, the use of which we already have and pay for, indirectly, through County Taxes and reimbursement to Daly City!

It is the general opinion of the people of this area that there is a basic Constitutional guarantee that the power to establish a government lies with the people and their right to vote! LAFCO, a five - member commission, on the other hand, has denied us the right to vote and establish our own government.

We, members of the Loyal Orange Lodges of California, pledged to uphold the Constitution of the United States, standing for Law and Order, rights and privileges of all people, believing in the open Bible, public schools and the American Flag, deplore the publicity and propaganda afforded the recent troubles in Northern Ireland, placing the protestant citizens of that country in an unfavorable light. We feel that no good-will can come from people playing on the emotional stress of others at this time, rather than the ideal that all men are brothers, that living and let living in peace is more in keeping with the times in which we live.

We appeal to the understanding and good-will of the American people, to ascertain the facts, and to let the lawfully constituted Government of Northern Ireland put its house in order, without outside interference.

No Religion on TV

"Now once a week, upon the Sabbath day, it is enough to do our small devotion, And then to follow any merrie motion."—Edmund Spenser

With its devotions paid in Sunday morning spots for religion, 1969-70 television swings into a merrie and eerie Sunday evening.

NBC has its Wonderful World of Walt Disney scheduled for 7:30 p.m. followed at 8:30 by a new one — the Bill Cosby Show. At 9 p.m. Bonanza springs into its eleventh season, as eternal as Sunday. The Bold Ones — a new show to challenge Mission Impossible — follows at 10 p.m.

The Wonderful World is still wonderful with fantasy, frontierland and outer space wrapped up in sugar and spice and everything nice. No less an authority than Frank Orme of the National Association of Broadcasting names the Wonderful World as "generally superior entertainment."

Bonanza was not named in the NAB list of programs that contained too much brutality and horror for children, and this in spite of Little Joe's fights and frequent trials for murder and his hippy-style haircut.

The Bill Cosby show is being hailed as a family show — wholesome and good — that moves around the character of a great American hero and patriot — the high school coach. NBC promises that this will be an hilarious series.

The Bold Ones is something new in TV. Imagine a series about lawyers, doctors, and law enforcement officers alternating in the spotlight. It is planned to be high-powered with ultra-modern gadgetry, to rival Mission Impossible in same time spot.

CBS has plans to fill the waning Sabbath day with two new shows and one old favorite.

At 7:30, John Forsythe will star in To Rome With Love. TV Guide calls it another W-3C-N2 (Widower plus three children plus a nanny.) It differs from My Three Sons, Family Affair and Bonanza in several ways. The setting is in Rome, the three children are girls and the nanny is, of all things, a female. A family can watch this one together.

The Ed Sullivan Show remains a CBS favorite at 8 p.m. At 9 p.m., where the Smothers Brothers lived, CBS has scheduled Leslie Uggams in a show that is planned as a comedy hour with music and comment. It will have skits and guest stars to match Miss Uggams beauty.

CBS will send Mission Impossible into its third season, but without its sexy smoke screen and its master of disguise. A Time magazine article calls Mission Impossible, "TV's hottest suspense series," and states that "its fans find in it the same inspired implausibility that characterized the Man From UNCLE in its prime."

Another critic warns that Mission Impossible is "strictly an adult show, too tense for young people to look at by themselves."

To fill out ths Sunday evening program, ABC schedules the Land of The Giants from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. and the ABC Sunday Night Movie.

If you want religion on Sunday night try reading the scriptures. TV can't help you.

A Nice, Quiet Night

WHEN Daly City resident Bob Stone, a veteran San Francisco Police Department detective, pulled his monthly assignment in the first floor nighttime control room at the Hall of Justice, he thought he and his partner, Pete Otten, were in for a nice, quiet time — for a change.

If you'll recall reading the S.F. papers early last week, Stone and Otten, longtime partners on the afterdark beats, had quite a busy time when they found themselves involved in a shootout in front of the Hall of Justice.

The whole story wasn't told, although "shootout" is mighty descriptive, at that.

Stone and Otten, alone with two police cadets at the time, were called, via telephone, by sheriff's deputies on the seventh floor and told a man wielding a shotgun was across the street.

The two plains-clothesmen dashed outside, immediately recognized the gun-toting man, who explained that a dispute between two other men, one in a car, had developed. He had overheard the occupant of the car say he was "going to get his piece," so he went in for his shotgun.

AS THE POLICE headed out, the car returned. Its driver soon drove away, but after driving some 100 feet, he stopped his car — as Stone and Otten moved up toward him. Suddenly he opened fire on the two officers with a 32-caliber automatic, getting off three rounds before the two patrolmen could hit the pavement.

Otten and Stone returned the fire, seven times in all, while the suspect let go with two more shots before fleeing in the car.

He was captured later.

All shots missed their mark, but Stone said later investigation showed the two officers had put an accurate pattern of holes in a window a block away.

That marked the third incident in which Stone had been fired upon in the line of duty. On a few years back left a scar on his knee from a 45-caliber "piece."

But, he still remembers last week's "quiet" night, and still can "hear" the lead whistling no more than two feet from an ear.

IT LOOKS like discrimination over at Westmoor High, on the part of whomever is charged with greening the lawns and leveling the weeds. One section of lawn on the "front" side of the hilltop school is really going to hell: Weeds that nearly obscure the Westmoor sign and grass that turned grown weeks ago.

Is someone trying to prove something? Other than mebbe the district hasn't paid its water bill and groundsmen lost the clippers?

Poor Do Pay More

THE POOR DO PAY MORE for household appliances and furnishings. This fact was established by a survey conducted in the Washington, D.C., area which gave a "factual picture" of the finance charges, prices, gross margins and profits of retailers.

The report, which also surveyed the legal actions taken in collecting delinquent accounts and the assignment relationships between dealers and finance companies, has been made public to provide "valuable assistance in planning future consumer protection activities."

The report focused primarily on two groups of retailers who used installment contracts:

(1) Those who appealed primarily to low-income customers and,

(2) Those who appealed to a more general market.

The FTC release showed that "retailers varied widely in their use of installment credit. Some general market discount appliance stores made very few sales on credit whereas a number of low-income market retailers sold entirely on credit.

INSTALLMENT CREDIT was used much more extensively by retailers selling to low-income consumers than by retailers selling to the general market of consumers. Low-income market retailers used installment credit in 93 per cent of their sales while the comparable figure for general market retailers ran 27 per cent.

The survey disclosed that almost without exception, low-income retailers had high average markups and prices.

One example: the wholesale cost of a portable TV set, price of which was $109, was sold to both low-income and general market retailers. The general market retailer put his set on the market for $129.95 while the low-income retailer tagged his $229.95, a markup of one hundred dollars.

In spite of the higher prices, the net profit on sales for the low-income market retailer was only slightly higher and the net profits returns considerably lower when compared to general market retailer's profits. Salaries and commission, bad debt losses and expenses, substantially higher for low-income retailers, were blamed for the lower returns.

THE REPORT showed considerable variation in the finance charges of retailers of furniture and appliances among the low-income market retailers. When computed on an effective annual rate basis, finance charges of general market retailers varied between 11 and 29 per cent.

A surprising fact uncovered by the survey was the frequency with which a small group of retailers made use of the courts to enforce their claims with respect to installment contracts.

Eleven of the eighty low-income market retailers reported 2,690 judgments filed in 1966. Their legal actions resulted in 1,568 garnishments and 306 repossessions. For this group one court judgment was obtained for every $2,200 sales.

THE NEW TRUTH-IN-LENDING bill, which requires interest charges to be clearly and conspicuously stated and additional legislation or government action, will not be the solution to the problems of poor credit risk consumers and unsophisticated buyers. FTC Chairman Paul Rand Dixon stated that "what we found would not be far different from what we would find in Philadelphia, Louisville or San Francisco.

"It's good basic information. Government will soon zero in on many other business practices and credit areas affecting consumers."

BARBARA BLADEN

It is just as unfair to label "The Learning Tree" tokenism as it is to credit such revolutionary Black attitudes in "Uptight" and "The Lost Man" as definitive of the militants' position.

Gordon Parks, a 56-year-old still photographer and author, claims the film is semi-autobiographical. So it naturally reflects the sentimentality of childhood and may be tempered with melodrama and old-fashioned folksiness because he is a Black man who has achieved wealth and fame in a white world and lacks the hostility and bitterness of a tortured background.

"The Learning Tree" is simply the story of a 15-year-old boy learning about love, hate, sex, honor and death while growing up in rural Kansas during the Twenties. Kyle Johnson, a 17-year-old Hollywood High School student, plays the young Parks with warmth, gentility and a naive sweetness.

A Place to Go

Lake Straddles Fault Line

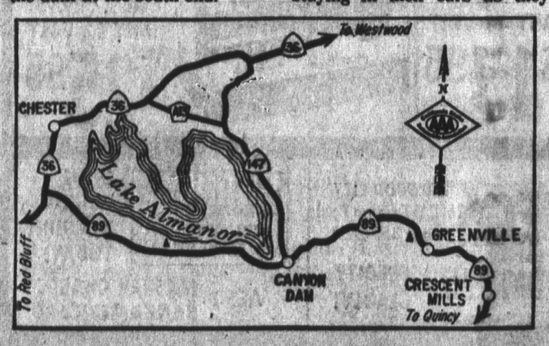
LAKE ALMANOR, in California's Feather River country, is a sparkling, blue lake that attracts many to her waters each year for superb fishing, swimming, boating and vacationing. Camping sites and picnic areas are full all around the lake; boat launching ramps are located at strategic points and resorts and summer homes fringe the lakeshore, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Created in 1914 when the Big Meadows Dam backed up waters of the North Fork and Hamilton Branch of the Feather River, this largest of the man-made lakes in California is 13 miles long and six miles wide with more than one million acre feet of water behind the dam at the south end.

Located in Plumas County and named for three girls, the lake straddles the fault line that marks the end of the volcanic Siskiyous and the start of the Sierra Nevada.

Dominating the landscape for miles around is 10,466 foot-high Mt. Lassen which lies 35 miles to the northwest and is snow-capped year 'round.

Highways leading to Lake Almanor (state route 70, state route 89 from Truckee and state route 36 from Red Bluff) prepare the motorist for the quietness and beauty of the area. This being timber country, many split rail fences and log homes lend picturesqueness to the timbered slopes and big meadows. Anglers heading for the lake will have a hard time staying in their cars as they drive along the Feather River and along Indian Creek with its long pools and brisk rapids.



ANGLERS COME HERE to lure the fighting rainbow and German brown trout that are nurtured by snow-fed streams, the Kokanee, salmon, black bass and catfish. Almanor has two kinds of fishing: shallow, warm water at the north end harbors the large bass and catfish while the cold icy depths along the west and south side is the favorite spot for rainbow trout.

The hub of activity at Lake Almanor centers at Chester, a small community on the north end that straddles the North Fork of the Feather; at Almanor, on the west shore; and on the peninsula that juts out into the lake from the north shore.

For those who want to fly-in to this vacationland, there's an airport at Chester. Boat and motor rentals, fishing tackle and bait are available at all of the activity spots.

Although becoming increasingly popular each summer, Lake Almanor still boasts of lots of freedom of open space, combined with temperatures ranging from 40 degrees to 80 degrees.

Bay Meadows Race Fan Overlooks Number 4-7

There are many smiles at the races, especially when you hear the tales of woe of "what I should have done." A case in point, and we won't mention any names (he feels sad enough): Mr. G. A., as we will call our unhappy friend, makes his daily appearance at Bay Meadows. Always willing to help out his brotherman, he frequently places a bet or a Daily Double for a friend as well as himself. Last Tuesday, the owner of badge number 47 asked G.A. (through a friend) to place a daily double on 4 and 7. The first and second races finished in just that manner and resulted in over a $300 double. Did G. A. play a ticket for himself? Never happened. "You know," he confided later, "47 is my age. I should have made a bet." Wednesday, checking Bay Meadows' Daily Double, 4 and 7 were again winners. Yours Truly decided to search out G. A. and see how he did. There he was — in a far corner, red-faced and figuring like mad. "What's wrong, pal?" I asked. "You see those numbers — 4 and 7 — the same party asked me to make the same bet and the double today was $380." "Your age being 47, guess you got even," was my smiling comment. "Even, h—! I didn't bet because I would have had to break a $20 bill to do so." As we made our way through the crowd, Mr. G. A. was still mumbling something about being 47 years old.

INVITATION TO GOOD DINING — The Kuo Wah, San Mateo's new and exciting Chinese restaurant, invites you to enjoy Chinese food that is truly special. This is the sister restaurant to the San Francisco Kuo Wah, which has become world renowned for its Chinese food. Laura Leong is the charming hostess and Richard Szeto is the maitre d' and manager of this new Forty-Second Avenue restaurant.

A. Sabella's on Fisherman's Wharf, although having discontinued their policy of dancing in the evening, continues to do a fabulous luncheon, dinner and banquet business. "The patrons provide their own entertainment," says Lucien Sabella, owner of this three-story restaurant enterprise, "and the 'musical notes' are provided by the cash register" . . . Children are not only welcome, but catered to at any of the Stickney's restaurants (San Mateo, Redwood City, Palo Alto, Santa Clara). Children's Souvenir Menus, featuring Jumbo Prawns, Fish Patties, Hamburgers and sandwiches, offer unique cut-outs of circus animals which can be colored and made into mobiles for children's rooms . . . There are so many "food bargains" at Foster's Coffee Shop in San Mateo, it's difficult to know just which one to point out first. However, the best "daily double" outside of nearby Bay Meadows is the Special Breakfast for just $1 and the 14 pieces of Farm-Friend take-home chicken offer which tabs out for $3.95 . . . When Enrico Romano says he makes pizzas without holding back or skimping on any of the ingredients, he isn't kidding. At Romano's Italian restaurant, located at Rockaway Beach in Pacifica, your pizza (whether large, medium or small) comes heaped with mastacholli, pepperoni, mushrooms, linguica, sausage, olives, anchovies and salami.

Wedding bells rang out for the daughter of Assistant District Attorney Jack Jones last week, and the former Miss Jones became Mrs. Cooper. The wedding reception for the bride and groom was held at the New Southern restaurant in South San Francisco . . . Mystery as to what is happening behind the scenes for the opening of the new "Lounge at the Villa Hotel." Construction on the design and decor innovations proceed at a feverish pace. There has been no peeking at what is transpiring here, but the changes are said to be extensive. The format is all new, reports Steve Norton, and sure to please many seekers of fun and comfort who are on their toes to "catch" the new action, which is scheduled for around the early part of October. Watch for it! . . . 50 Northern California podiatrists, headed by Dr. Sheldon and Dr. Bradly of San Bruno, held a dinner convention at Yolanda's Terminal Cafe this week. Manager Chuck Winstead and Yolanda favored the large gathering with their famous "All you can eat" family-style Italian dinners . . . Oreste's restaurant in San Francisco rates high in popularity as a meeting place of well known political figures, executives and celebrities. The decor is rich with fine, old Italian oil paintings and wine bottles of every size and shape adorning the walls.

If you would like to know how Wells Fargo executive Carl Ward keeps in such great shape, it's very possibly because he's a frequent seafood diner at Vince Licata's Italian and Sea Food restaurant. This is a special "note" — no collateral needed . . . Nick Gust can well be proud of his two Pacifica restaurants—The Moonraker, which features entirely different cuisine — Continental in style, and a nautical theme throughout, and Nick's Seashore restaurant, where early breakfast gets as much food play as luncheon, dinner and banquets. Both are "gems near the ocean." When dining here after sundown, you enjoy the illuminated sea frontage, with white caps breaking ceaselessly over the sand . . . Beef Shish Kebab. "Hawaiian style," is one of the charcoal broiled favorites at the barbecue pit of Rudolfo's in Palo Alto. Sirloin and New York cuts are also featured by the jolly Alfinito brothers, Art, George and Harry.

Margie Brandon's Act Is Complete Floorshow

Baron's organist, Margie Brandon, known as "Miss Happiness at the Hammond," puts on a better show as a single than many clubs put on with a floorshow. Bursting with talent and effervescence, Margie makes her job look like a picnic. And that's what it must be, as she's been the same bouncy personality for the last nine years at this famous San Francisco cocktail lounge at Powell and O'Farrell . . . Sil Oliva's Exposition Fish Grotto at Fisherman's Wharf is famed for its Sea Bass au vin blanc (en casserole) and Fancy French Crepes, stuffed with crab diablo and served with rice and vegetables. Ask Augie Rosasco for other specialties of the house next time you dine at this world-famous fish house . . . Among the activities taking place in one of the many meeting rooms at Fred and Jerry Rapp's South San Francisco Holiday Inn, Monday evening, was the Airline Employees Association's dinner-meeting . . . Roy Anderson, genial new bartender at Lew Lehr's, served ambassadors, kings, and greats in the movie industry during his five years at the Ambassador's Club at San Francisco International Airport . . . Scotty Campbell's Bud and Theresa Urgan are not restaurant novices in any way, for they and Mary Lou Francis (she's Theresa's sister) are natives of Wisconsin, where they own a summer resort, near Genoa City, called Nippersink's Manor. It was while they were on a busman's holiday in the Bay Area five years ago that they became interested in buying Scotty Campbell's restaurant in Redwood City.

HILTON INN ATTRACTION — One of the biggest crowd pleasers at the Hilton Inn Tiger Room, San Francisco International Airport, is Birdie Lee's rendition of "Color Me Father." Birdie appears Tuesday through Saturday nights with Russell Lee and the International Explosions.

Al Anthony and The Assortment appear nightly, except Sunday, in Nero's Nook at the Cabana Hyatt House in Palo Alto. Each member of the group is an exciting performer in his own right. Al Anthony is a piano and organ artist; Wini Gould is a redhot mama who belts out songs with zest; torchy songstress Kitty White has made eight record albums; Al Lamano is the singing, clowning drummer . . . Rudy Ish, host of the El Rancho Motel's Mermaid dining room, returned from an extensive vacation in Europe with many European recipes and methods in preparing food. Drop by for lunch or dinner and see what you thihk of them. Earl Wilms, owner of the El Rancho Motel, opened 84 new rooms, the first phase in a 250-room expansion program. Luxuriously furnished and totally climate controlled, the rooms are completely soundproofed . . . If you haven't tried the award-winning cuisine at the Domino Club in San Francisco, then this weekend is as good a time as any to view the world-famous "Gloria" and vast array of undraped art in addition to the excellent cuisine . . . One of the better dishes at The Greek Taverna in North Beach is the Dolmades Avgolemono, which consists of stuffed grape leaves with meat, rice, onions and egg lemon sauce. You might also want to try the Pastitsio, which is macaroni, chopped meat and cheese sauce.

Joe and Lou Ercoli's Leaning Tower restaurant in South San Francisco made the local sport fishing scene by way of Bartender Russ Conroy. Russ is on record at the Pacifica Salmon Derby as having caught the largest salmon this year (21½ pounds) . . . Club Shore-Vu, popular cocktail lounge and restaurant located on South Norfolk, is an after-the-races rendezvous for many track fans. Here is where the "I told you so!" and "My horse just lost by a nose" crowd gather for after-race discussions . . . High on the entertainment list in the Bay Area is the Blue Peacock's own Fabulous Romanos. This top notch group swings out on Friday and Saturday evenings for dancing . . . Bobby & I, who combine the talent and magic necessary to make a guaranteed success, open tonight at Mr. D's in San Francisco. Also featured are the exciting sounds of the New Don Ellis Orchestra . . . The Castaway reataurant at Coyote Point enchants guests with some of the most delicious Polynesian specialties and American dishes served this side of Tahiti. "We also specialize in exotic South Seas cocktails," says General Manager Jim Pias . . . Tommy's Joynt has a brand new beer menu listing 67 different brews from 22 foreign countries. They also serve every beer made in the U.S., which gives lunchers and diners a choice of almost 100 beers.

Deadline Nears On Pollution

As the deadline for halting rubbish burning in the Bay Area draws closer, city councils and residents alike are being inundated with suggestions on what to do with the waste.

The new law becomes effective on January 1, 1970 in the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District's six-county jurisdiction.

After that date, residents of one and two family dwellings will no longer be permitted to burn household waste material in backyard incinerators.

Some suggestions offered by the pollution experts include district multiple-chamber incinerators with auxiliary sources of heat, such as natural gas. These would meet the district's tight pollution regulations, but the cost would be substantially higher than existing hauling services for most homeowners.

Trucking off the waste to municipal landfill sites appears to be the most economical at the present time, D. J. Callaghan, chief administrative officer of the Pollution Control District informed Daly City in a letter two months ago.

"The most satisfactory and economical substitute for backyard burning is an adequate collection service," Callaghan informed the city.

Callaghan recommended cities re-evaluate their collection service, giving high priority to the survey of the entire system.

"Since there are fixed costs per stop, prices need not necessarily increase in proportion to the number of cans collected. Larger (compacted) trucks also hold the costs from increasing in porportion to the increase in tonnage collected," Callaghan pointed out.

By improving compaction of their refuse, many families may not require additional cans, it was explained.

Other ideas offered on the matter were placement of sufficient debris boxes in neighborhoods on a cost-sharing basis.

Garden clippings and tree trimmings could be disposed of by chipper and shredder machines. Such machines are now in use by municipalities and are also available on a small scale for individual users.

Another suggestion that would rid homes of newspapers and other paper is to donate the material to various service clubs, the Boy Scouts and fire departments. This material can be re-processed and used by paper manufacturers.

Municipal compost piles, where everyone disposing of garden clippings and may use compost from the pile, was likewise suggested for that type of waste.

D.C. Woman Is Injured

Mrs. Rose Veronello of 1516 Edgeworth Street, Daly City, was reported in fair condition today at Mary's Help Hospital where she was rushed Wednesday after being struck by a car while walking along Sullivan Avenue.

Police said Mrs. Veronello, 51, was apparently crossing Sullivan near Ninety-first Street when a car driven by Charles Edward Davis, 25, of 481 Nintieth Street, Daly City, smashed into her.

The victim's shoes were torn off her feet and tossed some 72 feet away, investigators disclosed.

Davis, a student at San Francisco State, skidded 23 feet before his vehicle plowed into Mrs. Veronello shortly before 6 p.m.

JOHN ROMELLI

Funeral services were conducted at 9 a.m. Wednesday from the chapel of the Hauman and Lincoln Mortuary, 322 Maple Ave., South San Francisco, followed by a requiem mass at All Soul's Catholic Church, for John M. Romelli, 62, who died Sunday in Los Altos. Interment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Survivor sinclude his wife, Celemtina, the daughter of Mrs. Ida Fiorentini of South San Francisco; there brothers, Angelo of Petaluma and Giuseppe and Renato of Switzerland.

Bubble Gum Thief Sought

South San Francosco police are on the lookout for a person or persons (probably pretty young) with pockets bulging with bubble gum, candy bars and some miscellaneous nickles, dimes and quarters.

The police received a report of a burglary at 1683 El Camino Real, site of a drive-in. Sometime between closing time Monday and opening of the facility of Tuesday an estimated $37 in candy, gum and loose change was reported taken.

According to the report, the suspect crawled through an unlocked front counter window. Eschewing the cash register, which had an unreported amount of money, the suspect carried away several boxes of candy bars and gum. Also included in the haul was loose change in a cigar box, probably tip money, police said.

Said one South San Francisco policewoman, "Somebody is going to have rotten teeth from this."

Plan For Bruno Parking Dropped

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met at Uncle John's Pancake House in Millbrae with three San Bruno City Councilmen to discuss the controversial issue of downtown parking for store employees.

The Chamber Parking Committee had proposed a permit system to allow store employees along the 400 and 500 block of San Mateo Avenue to park all day. The system, based on the percentage of employees each store has, was approved by the Traffic and Safety Committee of San Bruno for a 30-day experiment Monday night; the city council stated they would attend the Chamber Board of Directors' breakfast meeting and help decide on the issue.

The Chamber Board of Directors voted to drop the parking permit plan because they decided it would only make the situation worse, plus alienating customers, not to mention businessmne who desired additional individual parking permits than would be issued.

Chamber Manager Christopher "Kit" Menkin, in the absence of Parking Committee Chairman William Isackson of Ross' Department Store, presented the report.

It seems a high number of employees are presently parking on the free two-hour lots, while other employees want a separate parking lot so they will not have to move their cars every two hours or be forced to park a few blocks from where they work.

Mayor Neil Christal along with Vice-Mayor Karney Barberian and Councilman George Corey asked many questions of the Chamber Board of Directors as to control of the permit parking system.

Mayor Christal advocated that it would only be fair to open the parking to all, instead of a special few. He also noted that such a plan as proposed may alienate customers. The customers may view with displeasure the sight of automobiles getting special privileges while the customer would get a parking ticket if his automobile remained in the lot over two hours, Mayor Christal stated.

Councilman Corey said he wanted to make it clear that the city council represented all San Bruno residents. However, he noted that the parking lots were owned by the businesses through a special assessment district so their concern would be carefully considered.

Councilman Barberian suggested meter parking for employees.

Chamber President Harold Highsmith said a committee will be formed to look into the feasibility of forming a special assessment district to purchase a lot for employee parking.

In other Chamber action, the Board voted to approve a "Merchant Warning Bulletin" for "bad check artists and poor credit risks"; and appointed five men to a committee to select a maximum 20 nominees for the positions on the 1970 Board of Directors. The committee named: Alton Cloud, publisher San Bruno Herald and Recorder-Progress; Jack Bowlds, San Bruno Funeral Home; Jim Faverman, Key Pharmacy; William Schneider, Leasemobile; and Dick Stagg of Stagg's Photography.

Chamber President Harold Highsmith nominated Robert Miller of Miller Realty to fill the vacancy on the present Board of Directors. Voting on Mr. Miller's nomination will take place at the board's next meeting, October 14.

A. M. Race, San Bruno Chamber of Commerce Membership Development Committee Chairman and Manager-Vice-President of the Bank of America, San Bruno branch, announced that five new members have recently joined the chamber.

"We are proud that these businessmen want to get involved in San Bruno, by joining the Chamber of Commerce," Race said. "They are in agreement with the Program of Work of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce."

The new members are:

John A. Barnard, State Farm Insurance; Louis Depenzi, Lou's Shoe Repair; Melvin H. Lowe, Accounting and Tax Services; Don Marchi, GAC Finance and Don Stanaway, Stanaway Bros. Market.

Race said the new members bring the total chamber membership to 195.

Youths Held For Burglary At Supermart

South San Francisco police, working with only a scattering of clues, arrested three teenaged boys in connection with a $2,270 supermarket safe burglary that occurred almost two months ago.

The youths ranged in age from 14 to 18 years old. Police refused to identify them because of their age.

It was learned, however, that one of the suspects had been an employee of the Brown Bear Market, 249 Hillside Boulevard, prior to the burglary.

According to detectives, two of the three suspects forced open an air vent on the roof of the market around 8 p.m. last July 22 and slid down a rope into the interior of the store.

Working with crude tools, which included a crow bar and hammer, the pair succeeded in "peeling" open the bottom of the safe and extracting two small bags of money, police said.

The boys left the store via the same route and fled the scene in the third suspect's car.

During routine investigation of employees and prior employees of the store, police arrested one of the suspects and soon after rounded up the other two youths.

'Someone In Bedroom,' Police Told

Two men were booked on suspicion of burglary by South San Francisco police after a resident called in to report a burglary in progress.

Gerald Collier, 31, of 788 Mission Street, Colma, and Jeremiah McGrath, 45, of 359 Forest View Drive, South San Francisco, were taken into custody by officers Ronald Barranti and Michael Lunny.

Police said they received a call from Joseph Salz, 36, of 986 Nora Way, Apt. 4, at approximately 1 a.m. today that he had been awakened by someone entering his bedroom.

When officers Barranti and Lunny arrived on the scene, they noticed two men get into a pickup at Willow Avenue and Nora Way.

While talking to the suspects, the victim approached them, officers said, and identified the suspects as having been in his apartment.

Police said investigation disclosed the front door had been pried open. Although nothing had been taken, several items in the living room had been disturbed.

Supers Want Covers On Trash Hauling Vehicles

County Supervisors left no doubt Wednesday that they want full control of any garbage hauling through the county between San Francisco and Mountain View.

Acting in response to a letter from San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake on whether they will agree to have some 90 trucks a day hauling San Francisco garbage down the Bayshore Freeway to Mountain View, supervisors directed the district attorney's office to check the county's garbage hauling ordinance and to inform San Francisco officials what its restrictions will be.

Under a proposed contract between San Francisco and Mountain View, 90 trips a day would be made between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. and 10 p.m. and 4 a.m.

"We should be involved in the control of garbage trucks travelling through the county," Robert St. Clair, chairman of the county's governing board asserted. "They should be enclosed and not covered with burlap sacks as they are now using a haul road in Brisbane."

Supervisor Gerald F. Day questioned if the county has any control over a state highway.

"We can control littering," Supervisor William M. Werder responded.

The district attorney's office was instructed to fully investigate the matter.

Home-made Bread Mix Saves Money, Time When on a Tight Budget

Homemade mixes for quick breads, corn bread and puddings save both money and time for households on a tight budget.

All but one of the following recipes were prepared originally by the New York State Department of Social Welfare and released by the New York City Department of Social Services. Most of the ingredients are surplus commodities. The recipes were created for families using U.S. Department of Agriculture donated foods.

The quick bread mix can be used for muffins, pancakes and drop biscuits. To make about 8 cups of mix, sift together three times 6 cups of sifted flour, a cup of dry milk, ½ cup of sugar, 2 tablespoons of double acting baking powder and 2 teaspoons of salt.

Cut or rub in ¾ cup of lard until thoroughly mixed. Spoon lightly into glass jars or cans. Do not pack down. Keep tightly closed in cool place. Use within one month.

For muffins, stir 1 cup of quick bread mix with 1-3rd cup of water and 1 beaten egg just until blended; batter will be slightly lumpy. Grease 6 medium muffin tins and fill each 2-thirds full. Bake about 20 minutes in preheated 425 degree oven. The same amount of batter can be baked about 30 minutes in an 8-by-8-inch loaf pan in a preheated 500-degree oven, to make 6 squares of bread.

For pancakes, stir 1 cup of quick bread mix with 1 cup of water and 1 beaten egg in a bowl just until batter is blanded. Drop by spoonsful onto a hot greased griddle. Cook slowly until surface is covered with bubbles. Turn and brown other side. Makes 6 pancakes.

Drop biscuits are the easiest of all. Stir 1-third cup of water into 1 cup of quick bread mix. Drop by tablespoonsful on greased baking sheet. Bake about 15 minutes in preheated 450-degree oven. Makes 12 to 15 biscuits.

For corn bread mix, sift together three times 3 cups of corn meal, 5 cups of sifted flour, 1 cup each of sugar and dry milk, 2½ tablespoons of double acting baking powder, and 4 teaspoons of salt. Cut or rub in 1½ cups of lard until thoroughly mixed. Spoon lightly into glass jars or cans. Do not pack down. Keep tightly closed in cool place. Use within a month.

To make corn bread, stir 1 cup of water and 1 lightly beaten egg into 2 cups of the mix. Pour into an 8-by-8-inch greased baking pan and bake 25 to 30 minutes in preheated 425-degree oven. Makes 6 servings.

Chocolate and butterscotch pudding mixes take only minutes to make. For the chocolate, sift together three times 1½ cups of cocoa, 2½ cups of flour, 3 cups of sugar, 5 cups of dry milk and ½ teanspoon of salt. Spoon lightly into glass jars or cans; do not pack down. Keep tightly closed in cool place.

For the butterscotch mix, omit the cocoa and substitute 3 cups of brown sugar, packed, for the granulated white sugar. Other ingredients and method are the same.

To make 4 servings of either pudding mix, stir 2 cups of water into 2-thirds cup of mix in a saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring, until mixture comes to boil and thickens. Remove from heat, stir in 2 tablespoons of butter and ½ teaspoon of vanilla. Cool before serving.

Peanut butter quick bread isn't made from a mix, but it's easy, uses some surplus foods and makes a hit with children. The recipe is from the New York City Health Department's Bureau of Nutrition.

Sift together 2 cups of sifted flour, 1-third cup each of nonfat dry milk and sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt and 2 teaspoons of baking powder. Blend in ¾ cup of peanut butter with a fork. Stir in 1 cup of water. Spoon into greased loaf pan. Bake 45 to 50 minutes in preheated 350-degree oven.

Spanish First To Develop Pears Here

This especialidad de la casa is typical of the treatments our early Spanish predecessors in California gave the fruits that Spanish padres planted in Mission gardens and orchards. Raisins, wamuts, oranges and wine are used to enhance fresh California pears in "Bartletts Old California Style," a simple, flavorful and very satisfying dessert.

Pears crossed the Atlantic to our Eastern shores almost 150 years before the American Revolution. Nevertheless, it was the Franciscan Fathers who introduced them in California.

Among tree fruits of the world's temperate zone, pears are topped in production only by apples. European pear varieties number around 5,000; about 1,000 have been grown in the United States. Of these, the Bartlett is the overwhelming favorite. California dominates in Bartlett production.

This year's crop is one of the finest in many years. You should find good supplies of high-quality fresh California Bartletts in local food stores through September, perhaps longer.

BARTLETTS OLD CALIFORNIA STYLE

¼ cup dark seedless raisins
¼ cup broken walnuts
½ cup medium-dry Sherry
2 fresh California Bartlett pears
¼ cup orange juice
3 tablespoons brown sugar (packed)
¼ cup honey or rum

At least an hour before serving time, combine raisins, walnuts and ¼ cup Sherry in saucepan; cover, bring to boil and simmer for 3 minutes. Remove from heat and cool. Halve, core and pare pears.

Combine orange juice, brown sugar and remaining ¼ cup Sherry in pan, stir over medium heat about 15 seconds then add pears and cook about 5 minutes, continually spooning sauce over them. Turn all cavities up; spoon pre-plumped raisins and walnuts into them. Drizzle with the honey or, if you prefer, heat ¼ cup rum in warmer or metal measuring cup, flame and pour over fruit. Makes 4 servings.

"Bartletts Old California Style" is excellent for chafing dish preparation and service. The raisins and walnuts must be simmered ahead of time, of course. If you wish, you can get the pear halves ready in advance, too. Place them in a bowl of cold, salted water to prevent them from browning. Everything else can be done in a chafing dish at the table. Your guests will be fascinated and will enjoy the dessert all the more for having watched your casual, efficient performance. (One "dress rehearsal" with the family and you can really toss this off!)

Breakfast Broil-ups

For a Monday morning wake-up, treat your back-to-schoolers and busy husband to orange-broiled pears. Take halves of canned Bartlett pears and top each with fresh orange segments. Place them in a shallow baking dish and add ½-cup pear syrup. Top the filled pear halves with a brown sugar-butter-cinnamon mixture. Broil until bubbly. A great call to breakfast.

TODDLER'S LUNCH

Here's a happy lunch for your toddlers: Fold shredded Cheddar cheese into a quick-cooking rice cereal and in minutes you've got a nutritious dish that's bright with the sunny flavor of cheese.

Bluefish Giving Haddock, Cod a Rest, Consumer a Break

"I can do anything getter than you" — might well be the theme of a newcomer that is appearing in seafood markets these days. It's true; Boston bluefish, also known as Americn pollock, can do anything that haddock or cod can do, and some folks say Boston bluefish does it equally well or better.

Closely related to cod and haddock, this versatile fish has many things going for it. It is plentiful; the United States Bureau of Commercial Fisheries estimates that at 200 million pounds per year can be takne without greatly affecting the resource.

This is great news for the budget-conscious consumer becuase abundance means the price of Boston bluefish will be low. Similar in flavor, texture, and taste to its well-known cousins, Boston bluefish, however, is meatier and firmer.

Its slightly darker flesh turns white when cooked. Nutritionally, it rates very high with plenty of easily assimilated protein, vitamins, and minerals. Boston bluefish may be prepared in dozens of interesting and tasty ways; try it broiled, baked, pan-fried, steamed, or poached.

Because of a serious shortage in the haddock supply, New England's commercial fishermen and the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries have been searching for a new fish to take over while the haddock rests and replenishes itself.

Boston bluefish appears to be the answer. The Bureau is working with the New England Seafood Conservation Council to publicize this new product.

Give Boston bluefish a try; this new "in vogue" fish will soon be taking over in taste appeal as well as availability.

The Bureau suggests "Minty Sea Salad," a recipe that was developed especially to help introduce this newcomer. Great for solid meals and for dieting as well, Boston bluefish is satisfying without adding many calories. Combine the simmered fish with a refreshing, lime-flavored choice of low-calorie fruits and vegetables for appetizing satisfaction while slimming.

To learn more about how to buy, store, prepare, and cook fish, write for the full-color, booklet "Let's Cook Fish." This 56-page booklet, developed by the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Send 60 cents and ask for "Let's Cook Fish, Fishery Market Development Series No. 8 (I 49.49-2:8).

Minty Sea Salad

1½ pounds of skinless pollock fillets, fresh or frozen
2 cups boiling water
¼ cup lime juice
1 teaspoon salt
Mint dressing
Lettuce
Cherry tomatoes
Mint sprigs

Thaw frozen fillets. Cut fillets into six portions. Place fish in a well-greased 10-inch fry pan. Add boiling water, lime juice, and salt. Cover and simmer for 10 to 12 minutes or until fish fork. Drain. Flake fish. Pour Mint dressing over fish. Cover and chill for at least 2 hours. Serve on lettuce. Garnish with cherry tomatoes and mint sprigs. Makes six servings.

Mint Dressing

½ cup salad oil
1-3 cup lime juice
1½ teaspoons dried mint leaves, crushed
1½ teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon garlic salt
Dash liquid hot pepper sauce

Combine all ingredients. Chill. Makes approximately ¾ cup dressing.

Cauliflower Pleasure Is Diet Right

Raw or cooked, fresh cauliflower kindles eating pleasure for those seeking the ultimate in good taste. It's a diet-right vegetable, too, being frugal on calories and supplying us with vitamin C.

Cauliflower is a divinely different hors d'oeuvre served snowball white and dunked raw into a creamy dip or dripping with a softly spiced marinade. Add thin slices to a salad for a crunchy surprise. Cooked, cauliflower goes its succulent way sauteed, topped with crisp, buttered bread crumbs or creamed with cheese and bright green parsley.

Cauliflower dates back to the sixth century B.C. Native to the Mediterranean and Asia Minor, cauliflower is a cultivated descendant of cabbage. Though this vegetable reached the London market as early as 1619, cauliflower became an important crop in this country about 1920.

Buy solid heads with creamy white, compact flowerets nestled in fresh green jacket leaves. Keep chilled until used.

Cauliflower is embellised with a Swiss cheese-parsley sauce for a glorious vegetable dish with a hint of simple elegance. Marinated cauliflowerets exert mastery in our Calico Cauliflower Salad — a nutritious mixture of fall vegetables that taste as fresh as they look.

CAULIFLOWER WITH SWISS CHEESE-PARSLEY SAUCE

To prepare cauliflower: Cook 1 medium-sized head cauliflower, covered, in small amount boiling salted water until just tender. Drain, if necessary. Serve with Swiss Cheese-Parsley Sauce. Makes about 4 servings.

SWISS CHEESE-PARSLEY SAUCE

2 tablespoons chopped fresh onion
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1½ cups milk
½ cup coarsely grated Swiss cheese
2 tablespoons snipped fresh parsley

Cook onion in butter or margarine until tender. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Gradually mix in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches boiling point. Add Swiss cheese; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheese melts. Remove from heat. Stir in parsley. Serve over cauliflower.

CALICO CAULIFLOWER SALAD

4 cups sliced fresh cauliflower
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup grated carrots
1 small onion, sliced
½ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Combine cauliflower, green pepper, celery, carrots and onion in bowl. Mix together remaining ingredients. Toss lightly with vegetables. Chill 2 hours, mixing gently several times. Makes about 6 servings.

Pear-Ringed Party Mold

Mix ½-cup chopped nuts with one quart softened chocolate ice cream. Pack into 4-cup mold. Freeze until firm. Unmold on serving plate and encircle with canned pear halves stuffed with chopped maraschino cherries. Top with a cooked, cooled sauce made of one cup pear syrup, one tablespoon cornstach, ¾-cup maraschino cherry syrup, three tablespoons lemon juice and a dash of nutmeg.

SSF Warriors Seen NPL Team to Beat

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Writer

"How far is Heaven?" is a musical question most North Peninsula League football teams have been asking themselves since 1962 — Heaven being occupied solely by the South San Francisco Warriors from that year to date.

The six other grid teams may get a closer look this season but, unfortunately for them, probably won't be able to touch that pinnacle for at least another 12 months. The super-strong Warrior attack of seasons-gone-by, which produced the Jones, Cottrells and Bernardinis and gave South City an unblemished NPL record for the past six years, may not be as devastating in 1969 but it should be still enough to get the Warriors their seventh straight league championship.

SOUTH SF

Ray DeJong's methodical machine, facing the toughest practice schedule (San Mateo, St. Ignatius, Capuchino) in the last decade and opening league action against the only other NPL school (Westmoor) given an outside chance of snapping the win skein, must be ready for a quick start this year.

Each year DeJong feels that the Warriors will throw more but every year they seem to come up with another super runner that dominates scoring statistics. Last year it was Lory Bernardini, the Mighty Mite. This year it might be his younger brother Leo, Lory's understudy last season. The senior halfback has all the tools to make it big in the NPL, size, speed and talent, so DeJong will be looking towards Bernardini to carry the brunt of the running duties.

Returning fullback Rich Goldstein, newly-installed flanker Joe Majka and senior quarterback Brad Brian will round out the starting offensive backfield. Brian, an exceptional thrower, will probably give the Warriors better balance on offense

The rich get richer, some say, and that was the case with the Warrior line which got transfer tackle Cliff Conedy in from the south. The 6-2, 235-pounder is expected to bolster the already competent Warrior defense with

WESTMOOR

If Pete Matisi had a few of his linemen back from last year's squad to compliment his strong running attack the Rams might even be favored to take the tile this season. However, it appears that what yardage the likes of halfback Jim Lewis, fullback Al Lieske and quarterback Mike Swallow can get will depend on their own talents.

"We must mature quickly and we must get our line working together if we are to make a run at it this year," admitted Matisi.

Lewis, who with determination could be the Peninsula's best back, is the shiftiest runner around with speed, all the necessary moves and size in his favor. Lieske is a hard-nosed runner who also is a top-flight blocker

Swallow will have the finest crop of ends to throw to the Rams have seen in many years. Junior Tom Orlich (6-2, 185), sophomore sensation Bob McLennan (5-9, 160) and senior Rich Justi (5-11, 180) lead the pass-catching pack

Westmoor will have some experience in the line starting with Wally Klaveshal (". . . our best," Matisi noted.) checking in at 6-1, 245 pounds.

HALF MOON BAY

Jim Emery, who led the Cougar baseball team with his amazing throwing arm, will attempt to follow suit on the gridiron as coach Jerry Murphy looks for his "best year yet" from the HMB contingent.

Emery, a lefty, has a fine senior receiver in Scott Haeslett (5-11, 175) and an equally adept junior catcher in Ron Clements, a speedburner. Fullback veteran Ron McAuliffe (5-11, 170) and halfback Jack Jones (5-10, 165) round out the scoring machine.

EL CAMINO

Murphy looks towards Burnett Silvera to be one of the top linemen on the Peninsula as the 6-3,

Superlatives For Handbook Not Enough

By LE PACINI

THE ADVERTISING FLYER accompanying "The Baseball Encyclopedia," calls the new book by Macmillan Company, "The most complete, comprehensive, and exciting baseball reference and guide ever produced!"

For once an advertising flyer is not only right, but hasn't gone far enough. "The Baseball Encyclopedia" is the most complete, comprehensive — and, if you're the kind who can get excited over a book — yes, the most exciting reference and guide ever produced in the whole field of sports.

It took literally hundreds of investigators five years of pouring over every conceivable record concerning baseball all the way back to its inception a century ago, and a computer, to produce this 2,500-page volume which, basically, is a reference file of every team, player and manager who ever trod a major league field.

Among the most interesting things the researchers did in refactoring the myriad of statistics was discover many mistakes — some important — in individual records.

THEY'VE CLEARED UP ONCE AND FOR ALL time the controversy over who was the one season strikeout champ, Rube Waddell or Bob Feller. There had always been a question of exactly how many Waddell had fanned in 1909. Answers ranged from 343 to 349. When Feller struck out 348 in 1946, somebody supposedly went back and re-checked Waddell's record, said he had 343, and gave the record to Feller.

"The Baseball Encyclopedia" says that Waddell had 349, one more than Feller. This all became academic when Sandy Koufax K'd 382 in 1965.

Researchers also discovered that Rube Marquard won 20 consecutive games in 1912, not just 19.

Other unique things "The Baseball Encyclopedia" has done:

— Baseball didn't calculate RBI's before 1920, but researchers went back and calculated them.

— To give a truer perspective on clutch hitting, researchers show RBI's per game played. (Surprisingly, the championship in this category goes to an old-timer named Sam Thompson.)

— Gives lifetime batting statistics of pitchers.

— Does break-down on numbers of games played at each position for each season and lifetime.

— Shows pinch-hitting records of all batters.

— Shows relief pitching records of all pitchers, in addition to total pitching records

— Compiled earned-runs averages for early seasons when they weren't figured.

— Figured percentage of times at bat hitting home runs for all players.

Also included in the book is the yearly performance of every player who ever played in the biggies, with detail of single season achievements cross-referenced by player and team; a chronological list of teams and their players for every year since 1876; an alphabetical register of every man who ever managed in the majors and his managerial record; details for every player — besides his season-by-season records — on age, height, weight, and significant career interruptions; records of the obscure National Association; and a complete introduction to the game, an historical summary of the ways it has changed and special appendices showing the history of major scoring and rules changes. There are others, but we don't want to re-write the book in this column.

Naturally, this isn't a perfect book. We were disappointed in their lack of detail on World Series and All-Star play. They didn't include defensive statistics in the players' individual, season-by-season play.

There are other minor details where we feel they slipped up, but by and large this has to be the most fantastic sports statistical volume ever put together. If you're a true baseball nut, you can't do without it.

WE MIGHT AS WELL also go into an older tome, though nearly as interesting, which every true baseball buff should read. It's "Percentage Baseball" by Earnshaw Cook, published in 1964.

Cook is an engineer-baseball buff who breaks baseball and its strategy down into the laws of probability and shows that the sacrifice bunt stops more rallies than it helps, that platooning for the most part is bunk, that the stolen base and hit-and-run are much sounder strategy than the bunt, that intentional walks more often hurt than help, and suggests that relief pitchers should start and starting pitchers should relieve, and that pitchers should almost always be pinch-hit for every time at bat. He also agrees with an old jeered-at Bobby Bragan theory that a line-up should lead off with the club's best hitter, followed by the next eight most offensively productive players in descending sequence of ability.

COOK claims that any manager with a team of high second division quality could win a pennant using the strategy he has devised.

Our only quarrel with the book is that the mathematical equations and tables he includes could mean nothing to anyone other than a mathematician, which makes for dull reading, and that Cook too often digresses with pet editorial comments and prejudicial tirades.

MISCELLANY: After seeing what the Reds did to the Giants, many have said "Wouldn't Cincinnati be frightening with some pitching." That's true, but ask yourself what kind of a hitting team they REALLY would have if Tommy Helms, a .284 lifetime hitter, wasn't hitting .230-.240, or if they hadn't traded away shortstop Leo Cardenas, a .260 hitter capable of banging 20 homers. (His successors literally haven't hit their weight.) Or what if left fielder Alex Johnson, a .330 batting long ball hitter, hadn't been hurt so often and replaced by Jim Stewart, a punch-and-judy .235 hitter. Now, that's frightening.

Willie McCovey may not win the RBI title, but whether or not he does officially, we'll all KNOW he won on percentage of RBI opportunities. Virtually the only chance the big guy has of driving in runs is with his own homers.

Unless the bags are loaded, they just hardly pitch to him anymore. And some day, if the opposing team has more than a one run lead, we wouldn't be surprised to see them walk him intentionally even if the bags are loaded.

If you're interested in girls' softball, you might be interested in the fact that the Amateur Softball Association has 5,000 girls' teams registered, and that some companies spend as much as $50,000 a year sponsoring female softball players.

If you've been following the All-Time NFL teams being named to commemorate pro football's 50th anniversary, Leo Nomellini, you may be happy to know, has made the All-Time NFL squad. Joe Perry made the third team, Hugh McElhenny the second team.

THE 49ERS WERE WELL REPRESENTED on the all-time great teams chosen by decades. Bruno Banducci was on the '40s team; Bob St. Clair, Nomellini, McElhenny and Perry on the '50s squad, and Howard Mudd and John David Crow on '60s roster.

If you don't think Baltimore has a little pitching to go with its thundering hitting, consider that ace lefty Dave McNally, who was setting all of those consecutive win records until recently, has the seventh worse earned-run average on the Baltimore staff.

And for the unsuccessful story, New York Giant second year split end Joe Koontz, a former S.F. Stater, has been cut.

Westmoor's Rams Lose To Serra

By JOHN HORGAN

Lynn Swann has been described by local college scouts as the finest athlete in the state of California.

He showed some of the reasons why yesterday afternoon in Daly City.

The Serra High School senior, an all-Northern California end in 1968, worked at quarterback against Westmoor for the first time in the 1969 opener for both schools and led the Padres to an entertaining 26-20 victory.

Swann was clearly the hero of the windy, fog-enshrouded piece. He passed for one touchdown (a 77-yard bomb to end Doug Beanan), scored two more on scampers of 17 and one yards, kicked two extra points and generally made life miserable for the Rams throughout the non-league affair.

The much-heralded quarterback experiment, on the heels of a tremendous pair of back-to-back campaigns in which the Padres lived by the pass, proved that Jesse Freitas' suspicions about the multi-purpose Swann were indeed valid.

"Everyone says I'm stupid to play Lynn there," the Serra coach said after the win. "Well, maybe I am. But I'll tell you this. He gained more yards on busted plays today than we did on a lot of set plays."

"I think these guys (Serra's opponents) are going to have to stop Lynn's wide stuff. They will have to defense us that

Train Hits Auto, Driver Recovering

A 24-year-old teamster was in fair condition with head injuries Friday at Peninsula Hospital after the car he was dirving was struck by a commuter train at the East Grand Avenue intersection in South San Francisco Thursday.

Gary J. Canonica, of 261 Silver Ave., San Francisco, was thrown from the vehicle following the impact which caused the car to burst into flames. Vincent Allen, 63, of San Jose, was the train's engineer.

A witness, Eugene Grove, 37, of 532 Quartz St., Redwood City, told police his vehicle was right ahead of the victim's car.

Grove told police he was behind a police car and had stopped in the center of the tracks. "I saw the train's light flashing and heard the horn sounding as it moved southward toward me."

The witness said the victim's car had been on the right hand side of his vehicle and about 8 feet to the rear. "Just after I crossed the track, I saw a flash to the rear and heard an explosion."

Grove said the railroad crossing gate, flashing lights and bell were not in operation when he started crossing the track, nor after he had crossed the track.

Police said that when the next train came all equipment worked. They noted no defects either in the equipment, nor in the vehicle driven by Canonica.

The fire was extinguished by the South San Francisco Fire Department.

S.S.F. Meet On Speech

Civic leaders are scheduled to be guests in the verbal communications class given at South San Francisco High School each Wednesday from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room C-27.

Practice in introductions, reflective listening and speech construction will be part of the learning procedure, as well as some innovations

Win Second Grid Game

The Daly City Flyers made it two in a row Sunday, with a come-from-behind victory over the Terra Linda Jr. Trojans by a 20-14 score.

The Trojans from Marin made the first TD early in the first quarter on a pass play covering 15 yards. They made the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

The local Flyers took the following kickoff and in six plays scored on a 9-yard run by Orrin Patrick.

The conversion failed and Marin still had the lead. Before the half Orrin Patrick, lead by excellent blocking from the Flyer line, broke loose on an end sweep to score a 65-yard touchdown. Extra point made the game 13-7.

Westmoor Loses By One Score

way. That's going to free us inside to go up the middle."

That is precisely what occurred in the gloom and cold of the Rams' home field.

With Swann keeping Westmoor honest on the flanks (especially on third and big yardage situations), the other Serra backs found daylight through the center of the line. Running backs Bob Buerger, Pete Jordan and Mike Rocchi combined for 171 inside yards along with Swann's 51 to rack up a solid 222 yards on the ground. Buerger led the Pads with 101 yards on 17 carries. Lynn passed for 101 yards on three of five in his maiden QB effort.

Westmoor coach Pete Matisi agreed with Freitas' diagnosis of how to defense the Serrans and noted that, "We just couldn't stop Swann, especially on third down. He just goes back to pass and runs it and gains an extra 20 yards as well."

On two plays in the early first quarter, Swann rolled out to pass on third down and rang up huge gains through the Ram defenses but both runs were called back on clipping calls.

The Padre victory, their ninth in a row over a two-year span, didn't come easily.

Westmoor got an early first period touchdown from quarterback Mike Swallow after a poor Serra punt deep in Padre territory, added two more in the third quarter on short runs by Jim Lewis, who gained 105 yards on 10 carries, and Al Lieske, and continued to threaten until there were only one and one-half minutes left to play.

At that juncture, with the Rams having a first down on their own 36, Swallow faded to pass and was met by an aggressive Serra rush back on his own 19. Defensive tackle Rich Stapenhorst wrestled the ball away from the Ram signal-caller and Serra ran out the clock.

The winning Serra touchdown came midway in the fourth stanza (the field clock was not working on Friday) after Pad defensive back Bob Wackerman intercepted a Swallow pass on the Ram 21. Four plays later, the omnipresent Swann bulled over from the one.

Westmoor had been leading, 20-19, up until that point and appeared to have momentum.

Swann, who has now scored 176 points in just over two seasons at Serra, did not play defense on Friday. But Freitas did not rule out that possibility in the future.

"I decided I wouldn't use him there against Westmoor, win or lose," he explained.

"But I might use both him and Rocchi there soon."

"Soon" might come next Saturday when the Padres face rugged Woodside at San Mateo High School's field.

Warriors 'The Team To Beat'

220-pounder will anchor both the offensvie and defensive lines.

A brand new coaching staff might generate some excitement at El Camino this year but it is a "wait-and-see" attitude for the Colts who are on a rebuilding program after three below-par seasons. Head mentor Tom McCormick, returning to his previous prep position after stints in the college and professional ranks, will have a good quarterback in Joey Shannon (5-10, 160) and a good running back in junior Al Spitzer (5-11, 175) but just what the line play has to offer is as yet unknown.

Mark Thompson, Brad Ingersoll and Art Messer lend some experience to the defensive secondary but McCormick admits now that "we are doing a lot of experimenting to see what we have and who will earn the starting positions."

TERRA NOVA

After an 0-9 year there's only one place to go. Tiger coach Bob Fisher has some offensive material that could give the TN squad a respectable mark in '69 along with some line size that could cause a few problems.

Two lads are presently going after the starting quarterback job — Jeff Bonner and Bus Gonzalez, two seniors. Two veteran halfbacks also return in Tim Lutz and Rick Holley while three year varsity performer Mike Humphrey will be a fullback starter.

OCEANA

Replacing a superior football player like Joe Nuttal is a big enough problem on its own by Oceana coach Jess Jones faces the prospect of rebuilding an entire backfield and a good chunk of the offensive and defensive line also in 1969.

It appears now that the Sharks might open with a sophomore quarterback in Desi Chavez, a 5-8, 150-pounder, who is regarded as a fine throwing prospect. Three junior will try it at the tailback spot — Rick Summy, Marv Ariquistian and Dave Williams

The line will have some experience, some size but little speed.

JEFFERSON

Gary Leahy, in his sophomore coaching year at Jeff, might find things a little tougher this season. Mainly because last year's staring quarterback Frank Edelman has decided to sit out his senior year and there is no replacement for All-League halfback Will Cook in sight.

Diminutive Tony Moss (5-9, 160), an excellent athlete, will move into the QB slot with Carl Taylor expected to be the halfback runner. Lavelle Winding will be the starting fullback but after those three the Indians are an unknown factor.

Grocers Set Tourney

Golfing Date For Grocers

Recently members of the Bay Area Grocers and related sales organizations met to firm plans for the annual West Bay Golf Tournament, to be held at the Green Hills Country Club, Millbrae, September 22.

All grocers and allied trades are invited, according to Leo Musso, chairman of the event, and vice president of Q.F.I. Stores, Daly City.

The tournament will be a double shot gun with food and beverages available for breakfast, snacks on the course and lunch. A gourmet buffet dinner will cap the evening.

Musso warned the food industry participants that the 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. starting times will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Volleyball Sessions

Do you have a free morning? Then plan to attend the ladies' volleyball sessions which will start September 30 in Daly City.

Sessions will be conducted on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Classes will not be held on holidays or during the Christmas vacation for local schools.

Gymnastics Program Announced

The Daly City Recreation Department announces that their gymnastic program will begin September 29. Classes will be held for girls seven years of age and older. Children will be grouped according to ability, and all classes will meet twice a week.

Interested students should plan to attend the first class meeting in order to enroll. Class size is limited and enrollment will be taken on a first-come first-served basis, recreation officials said.

Tumbling, balance beam, vaulting, uneven bars, floor exercise, and ballet skills will complete the program.

Classes will be held on the following schedule:

Monday and Wednesday, 4-5:30 p.m., Intermediates.

Tuesday and Thursday, 4-5:30 p.m., Beginners.

Friday, 4-5:30 p.m., Advanced and team workout.

Saturday, 10 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Advanced and team workout.

Consistent attendance is required of all students. A leotard is the preferred costume, but a gym suit or shorts and a blouse are acceptable.

All classes will be held in the gymnasium of the War Memorial Community Center, 6655 Mission Street.

Pacifica Rec Plan

This fall the Pacifica Recreation Department will sponsor an adult co-ed volleyball league. The league will be played on Tuesday nights, from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Terra Nova gym.

Something "new" this fall will be a Ladies' Basketball League. The league will be played on Thursday nights in the Oceana gym from 7 to 10 p.m. League play will begin on October 16.

Ladies of Pacifica, will again have the opportunity to play softball this fall in a 3-Pitch League. The league will be played on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Babysitting service will be available. The league will begin the week of September 29.

There will be a senior citizens meeting on September 16, at Oddstad Park at noon. New ideas to improve the senior citizens program will be discussed. Everyone is welcome to attend.
